MANNING REUNION

THE HISTORIC MANNING MANSE

Held at the Historic Manse at Billerica Today

The annual reunion of the members of the Manning association is being held today at the Manning Manse in North Billerica. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was rather small today, there being but about 50 present. Nevertheless the arrangements which had been made were carried out and the affair proved to be an enjoyable one.

Upon arriving at North Billerica the guests were conveyed to the old Manse, about a mile distant, by carriage where old acquaintances were renewed among those who had attended the previous reunions. There were several who were present at the Manse for the first time today but it was not long before they were introduced to the other members and felt very much at home.

During the morning the visitors spent the time in inspecting the house, looking at the various relics and gifts, some of which have been in the house for a great many years while others have been recently presented to the association.

Shortly after noon dinner was served on the spacious lawn. Even though the rain was descending heavily during the course of the meal the guests were sheltered by a large canopy and the moisture did not seem to dampen their ardor in the least.

At the conclusion of the dinner a business meeting was held, after which speeches and an entertainment program was in order.

Those who attended the reunion today and are members of the Manning association are the descendants of Samuel Manning, who occupied the Manse. The Manse was erected at Billerica in 1686 by Samuel Manning, grandson of William of Cambridge, and occupied by his descendants for over 200 years and is now owned by the Manning association, incorporated by the Massachusetts legislature of 1901.

It has peculiar interest for every living member of the family, for the reason that they all are direct descendants of Samuel as he had neither brother nor uncle who lived to marry, so that it is indeed an ancestral home.

Erected as it was in the time of the Indian outbreaks and massacres it was for a time one of the officially appointed "Garrison Houses" in which an allotted number of families could take refuge in time of danger. There were times when it was filled with frightened fugitives and armed men, watching for the coming of the dreaded red foe.

Later on in history it became known as the Manning tavern and at one time during the Revolution a detachment of patriot troops, including a general and his staff, stopped there. Here, too, was made for use as one of the component parts of gunpowder to be used by the patriots.

The house stands today as one of the very few old landmarks that remain to tell of the earlier days so full of tradition and history that are dear to the descendants. It is in a fine state of preservation and as nearly as possible in its original shape. With its immense fireplaces and swinging cranes, the old Dutch ovens, the quaint low studded rooms with their beamed ceilings hewn out of logs, the winding stairway, the wooden latches with the oldtime latch strings, it is indeed a possession to be coveted.

Standing alone with a fringe of green woods all about it in the shade of many trees, it commands attention and respect. The old Manse is filled with a large collection of objects of interest to every member of the family.

and includes antique furniture, household articles, documents, deeds, letters, family paintings, spinning wheels, car-pet loom, books, trunks, clothing, campers, lanterns, guns, collection of pewter plates, mugs, spoons, old china, tavern register, warming pans, old fashioned spit roasters and backers, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

All of the above mentioned articles have been donated by members of the family, and the collection is being added to constantly.

The purpose of the association is to preserve the identity and prominence of the Manning family as well as to stimulate social intercourse and to establish acquaintances between the various branches and members of the family.

FIGHT ON RULES

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The decision of the house rules committee today to report a reform rule designed to prevent legislation being "smothered" in committee, makes another fight on the rules in the house at this session improbable. The rule is practically that prepared by the conservative conference known as the Clark-Sherley resolution. It is expected to be reported in the house later in today's session.

EX-PRES. ROOSEVELT PLAINTIFF'S SIDE

Will be Well Guarded in New York Tomorrow

NEW YORK, June 17.—Theodore Roosevelt will be guarded through the celebration of his homecoming tomorrow as carefully as if he were still in the White House. From the time Roosevelt leaves the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria at quarantine he will be guarded moment by moment by the keenest detectives on the force. Inspector Russell Wead of the detective bureau will take personal charge of his men. Police Commissioner Baker today assigned sixteen inspectors, 48 captains, 170 sergeants, 4100 patrolmen and 20 surgeons in duty for the land parade. Another force in police boats will watch the water parade.

The chief work of the police will be to keep the crowds in order, but they will also look to the protection of all out of town visitors. Four hundred detectives began to scour the city last night for every crook they could recognize. All those gathered in will be under lock and key until the celebration is over. To look after those who have stepped through the dragnet other hundreds of detectives will be constantly circulating through the files on the sidewalk during the parade.

The national volunteer emergency service of which General E. S. Davis is at the head will look after the scores of surgeons and nurses are sure to have their hands full caring for cases of heat prostrations. There will be ten land stations along the line of march from the Battery to Central park and Fifth avenue and a hospital boat with a station of St. John island. Hospital tents and ambulances will dot the streets wherever the press is thickest.

All the big hotels report big advance reservations of rooms for tonight and tomorrow but it is thought that they will easily be able to care for all their guests as the bulk of the visiting crowds will naturally be recruited from nearby towns.

Mr. Roosevelt's children now in this country and his relatives who are going to meet him will sacrifice several hours of sleep for the sake of being the first to greet the wayfarer. The revenue cutter Manhattan will take them to quarantine and they hour not yet determined, depends on the time when the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria enters the harbor. In all probability they must rise before dawn.

Rear Admiral Lutz, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard will command the warships detailed to the naval parade. They will lead the line with the South Carolina in advance followed by five torpedo-boat destroyers, four revenue cutters and four police boats. Then will come in twelve divisions the fleet of chartered steamers reserved by clubs from all over the country and the excursion steamers plying for chance fares.

MONSTER WELCOME

NEW YORK, June 17.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is today nearing New York where a welcoming demonstration awaits him tomorrow on his return from foreign lands. A wireless dispatch from the steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with Col. Roosevelt and his family aboard states that the vessel was 435 miles east of Ambrose channel lightship at 2 a. m., which under ordinary conditions would bring the steamer off Sandy Hook at 7 a. m. tomorrow. Weather conditions for the welcoming seemed dubious indeed this morning. A milky fog which fairly screened the bay and a slantless drizzle made New York a sodden spot today, but the weather man held a little prospect of clearing. Fog at sea might delay the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria but as the program does not call for the steamship to be in quarantine until 9 o'clock Captain Ruser has some leeway in time.

There will be no postponement of any of tomorrow's program on account of fog, rain or anything else in the weather line if the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria gets in on time," was the statement made by the reception committee today.

All preparations for the former president's welcome have been completed. When the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria drops anchor off quarantine Colonel Roosevelt and his family will go aboard the revenue cutter Manhattan for breakfast, after which they will be transferred to the larger cutter Androscoquin, which will lead the water parade up the Hudson and back to the Battery, where Mayor Gaynor will welcome the returning hunter.

The exercises at the Battery will be brief and will be followed by a parade up Broadway, visiting organizations lining the east side of Broadway, the line of march. Colonel Roosevelt goes to his home in Oyster Bay late in the afternoon. All incoming trains brought large numbers of visitors today to take part in the celebration.

ROOSEVELT NEARING HOME

ON BOARD THE KAISERIN AUGUSTE VICTORIA, via Marconi wireless, June 17. This steamer which is carrying as a passenger former Pres. Roosevelt, homeward bound after a year from home, was 435 miles east of Ambrose channel lightship at 5 o'clock this morning.

If the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria maintains the speed indicated in the above dispatch she should be off Sandy Hook at 7 o'clock tomorrow. However, if the prevailing fog continues along the Long Island coast the steamer will probably be somewhat delayed.

ROUNDUP OF CROOKS

NEW YORK, June 17.—In the general roundup of crooks for the protection of the crowds present in the city detectives corralled sixty-seven in the borough of Manhattan. These were all taken to headquarters during the night and morning.

Police Commissioner Baker had a conference with the police magistrates and it was agreed that all known pickpockets and other pickpockets taken before the magistrates will upon proper identification be held as suspected persons for 48 hours.

The detectives say that pickpockets and other professional crooks got the tip that there was to be a general roundup and that many of them have gone over to New Jersey temporarily or have remained under cover.

Still Unfinished in Hill Libel Suits

The examination of Walter L. Hill, plaintiff in the libel cases of Walter L. Hill vs. Eastern Cold Storage Co. and certain directors thereof was concluded in the superior court at the close of the session yesterday afternoon. On cross-examination by Mr. Rule, for the defense, the plaintiff's former friendly relations with the defendants were shown. The defendants, or some of them, are among the old-time market men of Boston and were brought into the Eastern Cold Storage company by Mr. Hill.

The plaintiff was vice president of the John F. Squire Co., while president of the Eastern Cold Storage company of Boston. He was asked about an exchange of checks between the two concerns, and denied that it ever took place with his knowledge. He was shown a check for $225 to the order of the Eastern Cold Storage Co. and acknowledged his endorsement. But he did not know what became of the check after his endorsement.

The court stated at this time, that it was not necessary to spend any more time over the matter. An exchange of checks, as an emergency measure, was of no consequence. In the afternoon Mr. Hill said that he organized the Worcester Cold Storage company and was its general manager during three years, while connected with the Eastern Cold Storage company. His attention was divided between the two companies, neither suffering thereby; and no complaint was made by the directors, because of his divided interest.

He said in answer to the cross-examination lawyer, that in favoring dividends he presented the actual figures that Mr. Squire took off the books for him; and he denied that he made different deductions from those figures, than were made by the board in opposing dividends.

Mr. Hill was questioned minutely with regard to several matters of litigation—suits against the company. He said in substance that he turned these matters over to counsel, and did not think it necessary to call the attention of the board specifically to them.

The cross-examination of the plaintiff went into many matters of detail, concerning his methods of doing business, and his interest in the corporation.

The principal witness this morning was Mr. Musgrave, one of the directors who had signed the circular that caused the trouble. Mr. Musgrave was examined rigidly and at length by Mr. Anderson for the plaintiff.

At the plaintiff's case is still unfinished it is probable that the case will run into Monday.

The Hill case took up the entire day's session and will go on again next Monday.

Motion Overruled
A motion for a new trial in the case of Gray vs. Connors Bros. Co., was argued before Judge Hardy in the superior court yesterday. The court overruled the motion.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

NEW YORK, June 17.—George Thomas, 23, of Athol, Mass.; Harry Daly and Joseph Higginson, both of this city, were arraigned in Yorkville police court today charged with burglary. Thomas and Daly confessed that they entered and robbed the room of Sidney McCall, a son of the late John C. McCall, at Yale six months ago. They exonerated Higginson, saying he was an acquaintance who happened to be with them when they were arrested. Detective Cray said he had information that Higginson and Daly were brothers and that neither gave his right name. The three young men were held for examination.

Cray and his partners, Dowling and Cain, saw Daly, Higginson and Thomas entering a pawnshop in Eighth avenue yesterday and arrested them after they had pawned a stickpin. Pawn tickets and other stickpins were found on Higginson and Daly which were identified by young McCall as stolen from his room.

BIG CONFERENCE

Of Unitarians Held at Tyngsboro Church

About 200 delegates from neighboring towns gathered at Tyngsboro yesterday to attend the 88th session of the North Middlesex conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The meeting was prolific of many interesting discussions and sound addresses.

After a hymn and prayer led by Rev. Granville Pierce of Ashby, the secretary, Rev. Geo. C. Wright, of Lowell, called the conference to order. In the absence of President Abiel Abbott, Rev. B. F. Bailey of Westford was chosen chairman.

Rev. C. T. Billings of Lowell presided at a somewhat animated discussion by suggesting that hereafter a charge of 25 cents a plate be made for the conference dinner. The women, however, would not stand for any break in the traditional form of hospitality and that settled it.

Rev. E. F. Falmagne Root, secretary of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Church Federation, spoke on the churches as community builders. He said that the activities and ideals of the 19th century were for individual prosperity and salvation.

The dominating activities and ideals of the present century are distinctly for community building and betterment. He cited numerous concrete illustrations; the commission for the bettering of country life, the movement for the conservation of natural resources, the awakening of the elvish conscience, the growing interest in the bettering of the lot of the poor and better safeguards of health and life through community or public efforts.

Now all these splendid movements appeal to the church for contributions of moral energy and spiritual power in order to develop the social conscience and the cooperative spirit. John Frederic Oberlin and John Calvin were graphically referred to as splendid examples of men who did community building as ministers of the churches in a way that makes their work not only a means of instruction but of inspiration. "The most needed service today for the church is that of community leadership in the things of the spirit. The church is an organization for developing and training moral impulse."

The discussion was led by Rev. P. H. Cressy of Groton who agreed with everything that Mr. Root said. He believed his function as a minister was to preach and it was the duty of his congregation to practice.

Others taking part in the discussion were Rev. C. T. Billings, Rev. George W. Brown of the Union Evangelical church, Tyngsboro; Rev. F. W. Holden and Mrs. Holden of Milford, N. H.; Rev. George C. Wright and Rev. N. S. Hoagland.

Mr. Holden gave an interesting account of the movement among the farmers in his town for cooperative production and distribution of farm products. He is the president of a cooperative farmers' association, and over 100 farmers came in one day last week to get their checks for their first month's returns. He believed that it brought the different denominations represented in the town into closer fellowship. The forenoon session closed with an inspiring devotional service conducted by Rev. Dudley R. Child of Peppercorn.

Then the pastor of the local church made the dinner announcement. The dinner was served in the upper town hall. The Rev. George W. Brown, who has but recently accepted a call to the Tyngsboro Evangelical church, was called on to pronounce the blessing.

The afternoon session began with Miss Belle Bauman at the organ. Mrs. Paul Kahle sang very effectively the beautiful solo, "A Message from Heaven," accompanied by H. T. Hancock on the violinello. Frank P. Chisholm, a graduate of Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., was invited to address the conference. He gave an interesting account of the work that the institution has done and is doing.

Resolutions in appreciation and recognition of the life and character of the Rev. William Brown, for 20 years a faithful and helpful member of the conference, was read by Rev. Mr. Pierce of Ashby, chairman of the committee, and was adopted by a rising vote. A collection was taken in aid of the First church in Francesstown, N. H., and a roll call of the churches was called. The number in attendance showed nearly 200.

The address of the afternoon was by Rev. George Willis Cooke of Wakefield. He spoke of the demand of our generation in regard to the practical results of religion as organized in churches. The discussion that followed was led by the Rev. Richmond Fisk, D. D., of Ayer. The discussion over, a vote of thanks was extended the Tyngsboro church for its hospitality and the conference adjourned with a benediction by Rev. Benjamin Bailey.

LARCENY CHARGE

Man Stole $100 Given to Effect Cure

BOSTON, June 17.—Convicted of larceny, Giuseppe Orlando was sentenced to the house of correction for one year by Judge Watt in the superior criminal court yesterday. He obtained the money from Dominick Colarusso under the pretense that he would send it to a priest in Italy who could effect a cure of his daughter, Eveline Colarusso, by prayer.

The defendant had a barber shop in Shute street, North End. He lived in Cambridge. Miss Colarusso was in the habit of sitting on the steps of the barber shop. She suffered from an incurable disease. Orlando had been told by a priest that if he would consent to such a marriage because of the girl's health. He did not tell the girl or her father that he was married. He was sorry that the father had interposed an objection to his marriage.

He seemed anxious about the girl's health and told the father he knew a priest who could cure her by prayer in consideration of $200. To show his good faith Orlando was willing to contribute $100 toward the $200, and the father handed over $100. Though the money was supposed to have been forwarded to the priest, there was no change in the condition of the girl's health.

Explaining the failure of a change for the better, Orlando said he forgot to send the priest a lock of the girl's hair, a piece of her dress and a headful of earth upon which the house in which the girl lived stood.

All three essentials to the cure were furnished to him and as time elapsed the girl and her father patiently awaited some noticeable change in her condition, but her pallid cheeks furnished little hope of her regaining her health. Despairing of the priest's cure, the father and girl finally concluded that they had been deceived. The matter was brought to the attention of the police and Orlando was charged with the theft of $100 from the girl's father and after a two days' trial a jury found him guilty.

MURDER CHARGE

Two Men Were Placed Under Arrest

RUMFORD FALLS, Me., June 17.—Giuseppe Pietrantonio and his brother, Rinaldo Pietrantonio, Italian laborers, about 38 and 35 years old respectively, were yesterday afternoon lodged in Paris jail by Deputies Hart of Wilson mills and Elliott of Rumford, where they are held without bail for the October term of court on the charge of murder of Vincenzo Gattaccio, 37 years old, at Aziscon dam Monday, brief news of which was published yesterday morning.

About 150 Italians are employed in the building of the dam and Sunday morning these three men had words, an old feud existing between them. It is alleged that on Monday morning Rinaldo came up behind Gattaccio and hit him over the head with a club, and upon Gattaccio's seizing a club to defend himself the older Pietrantonio rushed up with a knife and struck him twice, pursuing him and, as he tripped and fell, plunging the knife into his abdomen. Two other fearful cuts were given, causing death in an hour.

The knife with which the stabbing was done, it is said, was made by the camp blacksmith out of a file for Pietrantonio, after the Sunday row, but without knowledge of the use for which it was intended.

The murdered man has been buried at Wilson's Mills. The hearing was at Wilson's Mills, Tuesday, and at the coroner's inquest Wednesday morning the verdict was that "the man came to his death by reason of knife-stabs inflicted by Giuseppe Pietrantonio."

There were three witnesses to the murder.

number that has graduated from the school in several years.

The stage was artistically decorated with flowers and greenery and the members of the graduating class occupied chairs there. At one end of the stage, resting on an easel was a large portrait of Dr. Zaidi, Howe for whom the school was named.

The members of the graduating class were as follows: Laura Marie Hentz, Jenn Albert Nason, Ruth Louise Wild, Bertha Ellen Dimock, Alice Winifred Higgins, Dwight Leverett Dimock, Harvey Percival Brown, Florence Blanche Dutton, Kathryn Nason, Alice Kathleen Kelly and Evelyn Augusta Spaulding.

The following was the program carried out:

Overture, Hubbard's orchestra; prayer, Rev. J. Harold Dale; class essay, "My Herbarium," Ruth Louise Wild; second honor, "The Progress of Aerial Navigation," Evan Albert Nason; first honor, "Pleasures of an Educational Reformer," Laura Marie Hentz; prophecy, Harvey Percival Brown; conferring of diplomas, Chas. H. Kohlrausch; report for the trustees, J. Nelson Parker; address, Rev. Edgar Swan Wiers of Montclair, N. J. The address was delivered by Rev. informal reception was held by former pupils of the school who were in attendance.

In the evening the 14th annual reception of the Howe School Association was held in the banquet hall. An excellent menu was discussed and at the conclusion of the dinner a business meeting was held at which the following officers were chosen: President, John A. Richardson, vice president, J. Frank Casey, Otto S. Brown, Warren L. Floyd, Charles H. Kohlrausch, J. Nelson Parker, T. Frank Lewis; secretary, Albert H. Richardson; treasurer, Everett S. Bull; executive committee, Miss Grace L. ## DOG GAVE ALARM

FAMILY ESCAPED FROM BURNING BUILDING

GOFFSTOWN, N. H., June 17.—The farm buildings of John Lang, situated on Patten hill, were burned early yesterday morning. The family were awakened by the barking of the dog. They found the barn in flames. The fire soon reached the house, which was consumed, but nearly all of the furniture was saved.

Mr. Lang purchased the farm about eight months ago and has resided there since. The buildings were covered by insurance. Ivan Lang, one of the sons, had his foot badly cut on glass as he was trying to save some of the furniture from the burning house.

MORE SMALLPOX

EIGHTH CASE WAS REPORTED IN BOSTON YESTERDAY

BOSTON, June 17.—The city's health board was notified yesterday of the discovery of a case of smallpox on Warren avenue, South end, making a total number of eight cases reported during the past two months. The victim, a man 28 years old, was transferred to the health department's quarantine quarters at Galloup island, Boston harbor, and the other occupants of the house were quarantined until after they had been vaccinated and the house fumigated.

An investigation by the health authorities during the afternoon traced the disease to two men who were stricken with smallpox on Chandler street a week ago.

SIX MARRIAGES

IN SALOON OF THE STEAMSHIP SAXONIA

BOSTON, June 17.—Six young women became brides in the second cabin saloon of the steamship Saxonia soon after the vessel docked yesterday morning. Each had crossed the ocean to marry a sweetheart, who had preceded her to this country. "Duck Parsons" James A. Burns officiated at the marriages.

When the Saxonia arrived from Liverpool early in the morning each young woman eagerly scanned the faces on the dock for a sight of the man she had crossed the ocean to wed. No less anxious were the young swains, who importuned the immigration officers to hasten that they might be free to marry and take their brides to their new homes.

The couples were: John F. Green of Worcester and Theresa Danbury of England, Frank Goswick of Boston and Sophia E. Solotnik of Germany, Fred Bartwood of Worcester and Rachael Clark of England, William Fields of Waterville, Me., and Christina J. Black of Scotland, John Kenyon of New Bedford and Bertha Bixendale of England, John Sterling Dabson of Southbridge and Lydia J. Sparks of England.

Customs inspectors found a trunk with a false bottom in the possession of one of the steerage passengers, whose name they refused. It contained lace curtains, some cheap jewelry and clothing. A duty of $80 was collected and the immigrant was allowed to pass.

BOY DROWNED

AFTER HE HAD BEEN SAVED ONCE

BOSTON, June 17.—Irvin McDowell, 24, 11 years old, son of Henry D. McDowell of Cambridge, and a grandson of the famous federal general, Irvin McDowell, was drowned in the Charles river at 7 o'clock last night, while trying to swim ashore after he had been once rescued.

The boy, with Joseph G. O'Brien, 18 years old, had been tinkering with the engine of his motor boat, moored off the University Press, on the Cambridge side of the river. A little before 7 the boys started ashore in a tender. Twenty yards from shore, McDowell had a fainting spell and fell overboard.

O'Brien plunged in after him and was successful in bringing him to the surface. He towed him to the side of the dory and told McDowell, who had partly regained consciousness, to hold on.

Instead, McDowell, feeling stronger, started to swim ashore. He swam about ten yards and then sank before O'Brien could reach him. His body was recovered two hours later.

McDowell lived at 116 Brattle street. A few days ago, the lad, who attended Brown & Nichols' preparatory school, finished his preliminary examinations for Harvard.

BULLET REMOVED

PANAMA EXPOSITION

New Orleans and San Francisco in the Race

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Unwilling to favor either of the rival Panama exposition cities, San Francisco or New Orleans, the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday decided to report favorably two resolutions authorizing the president to invite foreign nations to participate in each exposition to be held in the two cities whenever each city has raised $7,500,000 for the purpose of holding its exposition.

The senate committee has taken no action on similar measures and neither house is expected to act on them during the present session.

The New Orleans contingent appeared jubilant over the committee's action. The San Francisco adherents admitted that the action was not what they wanted, but declared that they could raise any amount necessary to secure government indorsement of this fair.

The committee adopted the resolutions of both Representative Kahn of California and Representative Estopinal of Louisiana.

These were nearly identical and authorized the president to invite foreign countries to participate in the international exposition in 1915, the Estopinal resolution being for New Orleans and the Kahn for San Francisco.

The original sum fixed as an actual bona fide subscription requirement in San Francisco and New Orleans was $5,000,000, and the committee yesterday raised that to $7,500,000 in each case.

While the committee was in executive session two camps of interested parties—one of Louisianians and the other Californians—were in the corridor on which the committee room is located.

The feeling in the committee was that it would be unfair to choose as between the two cities when each was ready to meet the other's claims.

The vote was unanimous.

Representative Foster of Vermont, chairman of the committee, and other members announced that there was no idea of any action by congress at this session.

Prior to the executive meeting of the committee a representative of San Francisco argued that his city had raised more than $8,000,000 by subscription and wanted to raise the limit in the Kahn resolution to $7,500,000. A member of the committee hurried outside and talked with Representative Estopinal of Louisiana.

"Will New Orleans meet that amount?" he asked Estopinal.

"Yes," replied Estopinal, "we have already raised $6,000,000 and can easily obtain the rest."

Back went word to the committee and, following an animated discussion, the figure in the pending resolutions went up to $7,500,000.

The preliminary battle in committee was on a motion to postpone action on the Kahn resolution until next December. This motion was lost by a close vote.

Butler Ames of Massachusetts, a republican, voted with the democratic members in favor of New Orleans. Mr. Ames is a descendant of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, whose command of federal forces in New Orleans in the 40s furnished an exciting part of the Civil war.

The adoption of the Kahn resolution was then moved, but the motion was lost and the two resolutions were coupled and passed by the committee.

months of 1910, were 106 million, indicating for the twelve months ending June 30 a total of 126 million dollars, both imports and exports being, in the present year, the highest on record.

Of the imports from France a very large proportion is composed of articles usually classed as luxuries.

Diamonds, for example, the imports in the ten months ending with April amounted to over 5 million dollars, or twice those of the preceding year; of the other precious stones, nearly 4 million dollars, against 2 million last year; of cotton laces, etc., about 5 million, or slightly less than those of last year; silk manufacturers, 13 1/2 million, against 12 1/2 million last year; of champagne, 53 1/2 million, against 41 1/2 million last year; distilled spirits, 21 1/4 million, against 11 1/2 million last year; of automobiles, 11 1/4 million dollars, against 11 1/2 million last year; and of kid and other leather goods, 3 million dollars, compared with 2 1/2 million last year, in the corresponding period.

Art works, of which the class "20 years old or over" was by the recent tariff transferred to the free list, show in the ten months' importations of nearly 9 million dollars, against a little over 1 million in the like period of 1909.

Other important items include feathers and flowers, woolen dress goods, and olive oil; while among the class of articles for use in manufacturing, hides and skins, India rubber, raw silk, argols and glycerine range in value from 1 million to 4 million dollars each in the ten months.

Exports from the United States to France consist chiefly of manufacturers' materials and foodstuffs, though many classes of American manufactures find markets of greater or less extent in that country.

Of raw cotton the exports in ten months ending with April amounted in 1910 to 65 million dollars, against 47 1/2 million in each of the last two years; of pig copper, 10 1/2 million; of unmanufactured tobacco, 2 2/3 million; of lubricating oil, 2 million; of boards and timber, 1 million; and of fertilizers, a half million dollars.

Exports of foodstuffs, to France, as to other countries, show decreases compared with earlier years. In the ten months of 1910 under review corn exports were about a quarter of a million dollars in value; wheat, three-quarters of a million; fruit and nuts, a half million; meat and dairy products, less than a half million; and cotton seed oil, a half million.

Agricultural implements exported to France were valued at 2 2/3 million dollars; builders' hardware, a half million; typewriters, three-quarters of a million; metal-working machinery, over a half million; electrical machinery, one-third million; upper leather, 1 million; boots and shoes, over one-third million; and furniture, about 200 thousand dollars.

Merchandise from the United States forms a steadily increasing share of total imports of France; in the five years ending with 1884, 1-2 per cent; in the five years ending with 1901, 1-2 per cent; and in the five years ending with 1908, 11 per cent. Measuring the percentages of the imports into the United States from France, which was 11 1/2 per cent in the five years ending with 1884, had decreased to 8 1/2 per cent in the five years ending with 1901, and 8 1/2 per cent in the five years ending with 1908.

French colonies and possessions have, not thus far, proved large markets for products of the United States, and comparatively few of their products enter our own markets.

Considering the ten months' figures now at hand, the imports from all French colonies amounted to 1 1/4 million, and exports to that territory 3 million dollars. The imports came chiefly from French Africa and French Oceania, while the exports went principally to French Africa, French Oceania, French Guiana, and the French West Indies. According to the official figures of France, her colonies have a total import trade of 220 million dollars, of which the share supplied by the United States is but 5 1/4 million dollars, or 2 1/2 per cent.

Their exports were, in the latest available year, about 150 million dollars, of which less than $1,000,000 in value went to the United States.

CURTAILMENT QUESTION

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 17.—The most significant feature of the annual session of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers association which met here yesterday was the failure of the mill men to take any official action on the matter of curtailment as had been advertised. It is said, officially, however, that probably all of the members have agreed to a complete curtailment in August to continue until the market advances. The association has adopted resolutions condemning the rules of the New York Exchange obtained.

which encourage speculation and manipulation and voted to admit Virginia mills to the organization.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED

NEW YORK, June 17.—It was reported last night that the federal grand jury which has been investigating the operations of the bull movement in May cotton, has returned indictments against several prominent brokers. Warrants, it is expected, will be issued tomorrow. No official confirmation of the report could be obtained.

TRADE WITH FRANCE

WILL PROBABLY AMOUNT TO ABOUT $250,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Trade of the United States with France in the fiscal year ending with this month will probably aggregate about 250 million dollars, the largest total on record. Should the rate of commerce between the two republics shown by the ten months' figures at hand be maintained during May and June, imports will be 120 million and exports 130 million.

Comparative figures prepared by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor covering the past four years show that commerce with France follows the general trend of international trade during the past few years—a decline in 1908 from the high level touched in the preceding year, a partial recovery in 1909, followed by high record figures in 1910. Imports from France in 1907 were 128 million dollars in value; in 1908 they receded to 102 million, in 1909 stood at 108 million, and for ten months of 1910 amount to 115 million, indicating for the full fiscal year a total of 130 million. Exports to France in 1907 aggregated 111 million dollars, in 1908 slightly advanced to 115 million, in 1909 receded to 102 million, and in ten

He—No; he merely made her mad.
She—But his explanation was clear.
He—Yes, and that's where he made his mistake. He told her it was as "plain as the nose on her face."

EASY.

Girl From Country—I don't see what kind of a place I could get. There isn't a single thing I know how to do.
Employment Agent—Very simple. Just advertise yourself as a maid of all work.

CHANGED HIS BASE.

"I see they have old Ryley behind the bars."
"Well, he's been in front of them long enough."

A BOOMERANG.

STARTLED SPECTATOR—Great heavens!

There's a man caught on the anchor rope.

WHILE HE WENT IN TO GET A DRINK.

The pup sat down for a quiet think.

AND THOUGHT THE FRONT WAS BEST FOR VIEWING.

The work that the man on top was doing.

HE ALSO REMARKED BEFORE HE DIED.

He wished he'd 'a' known the pup was tied.

AND A LITTLE EXTERIOR DECORATION.

Will aid in their speed acceleration.

A SWEET MISSIVE.

Lodger—A letter ought to have come here for me about a week ago. Haven't you seen anything of it?
Landlady—Oh, yes, but it was so beautifully scented I kept it among my handkerchiefs a little while.

ONLY A HOPE.

He—Farewell, my darling, I hope you will remain true to me.
She (through her tears)—I hope so too.

HEADING HER OFF.

"What pretty shoes, dear! How much were they?"
"Six dollars. But they cost more in larger sizes."

OF TWO EVILS.

It was the old, old story, but, then, the new boarder had never really had any hopes. He knew those "home comforts."

"CHOOSE!"

said the stern landlady as he took his seat at the festive breakfast table.

"HOW CAN I CHOOSE?"

inquired the new boarder blantly, "when there is only one egg?"

"WHY?"

returned the stern landlady snappily, "take it or leave it!"

AT STATE FARM

Great Building Operations Under Way

MIDDLEBORO, June 17.—Extensive building operations are under way at the Bridgewater state farm, the recent appropriation of $50,000, which the state legislature made, being put into concrete buildings. The prisoners, under direction of A. J. Maynard of the construction department, have just started a concrete "strong building" for the more violent insane cases. This building is being built to the westward of the present group, and is the first of a series of buildings which will probably be needed for the care and housing of insane criminals who are sentenced to the state farm.

This building is being located on the site of two courtyards, surrounded by an 18 foot stone wall, and will be two stories high. It is the first of any of the state farm buildings to be built on posts, there being a clearance of 10 feet between the ground and the lower floor of the building. This is done to protect the ground room for the inmates to amuse themselves in, and allows a fairly clear view of the entire yard.

The posts are of heavy concrete. The building will be 157 by 40 and two stories high. It will have 56 strongly built cells beside two ward rooms, and will be connected with the other buildings of the insane group by a concrete subway.

At the state farm an increase of about 30 insane patients annually is shown by the books, and to provide for the future anticipated increase of the milder cases, another building will be erected as soon as this present structure is completed. It will be 342 by 40, and three stories high, of concrete construction. There will be 98 cells and nine ward rooms, in which large numbers of the mildly affected cases can be cared for. This building will also provide quarters for a hospital room, a dining room and kitchen.

Later, when work is not so rushed, a 17 acre plot will be enclosed by a 20 foot concrete wall, for insane patients, and this ground will be devoted to little garden plots for them to care for. Dr. Alfred Elliott, the medical director, believes in diversion of their minds by gardening from their own troubles is highly beneficial.

The new ward prison building is nearing completion, and will soon be occupied. It is 108 by 46, and three stories high. This was begun last fall, and the work continued with little interruption throughout the winter, despite storms and frosts. In this building the "trusties" of the criminal department will be quartered. Instead of being confined in separate cells, as at present, those who have proven that they can be trusted will be kept in wards of about 15 men. They will be allowed to stay up later at night than the ones occupying cells, making the prisoners' day longer and the period of watchfulness of the night officers in this particular building shorter.

Another new concrete structure which will be begun at once is the new guard room, where Master J. Arthur Taylor will have office, and where accommodations will be made for a guard room on the prison side. There will also be a room provided for the prison library, which is quite large and needs better quarters. There will be coat rooms for the officers and also a reception room, in which visitors may see the prisoners upon whom they desire to call. This structure will be two stories high.

Other new buildings which will soon be erected are a storehouse in the present prison courtyard, and a new storage warehouse at Titicut station, where the institution's freight will be received. Some new apparatus for the stone crusher plant is also being considered, and electrical appliances to operate it will probably be installed.

STATUE OF LEE

MONTPELIER, Vermont, June 17.—Resolutions condemning the action of the state of Virginia in placing the statue of General Robert E. Lee in Statuary Hall, Washington, were adopted yesterday by the Vermont department, Grand Army of the Republic, assembled in their 44th annual convention. The resolutions declared that Virginia had aggravated the insult to the veteran soldiers by erecting a statue in a Confederate uniform and stated that had a style of uniform in vogue prior to the civil war been used the matter would find less opposition.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME SOCIETY HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

The St. Peter's Holy Name society held its regular monthly meeting last evening and despite the adverse weather conditions it was well attended. President Richard Lyons presided and minor routine business was disposed of. The quarterly communion comes on Sunday, July 10, and it is hoped that the members will turn out in large numbers. After an animated discussion it was voted to hold the usual communion breakfast. The committee in charge of this will be William F. Boyd, chairman; Joseph M. Vey, Nicholas Kennedy, Patrick H. Corey, John J. Quinn, John J. Devlin, John J. Watson, John Hynes, Alfred McBride and Edward Farrell. The president named the visiting committee as follows: John J. Watson, John Hynes, James Welch, William Fitzgerald, Jr. and Martin Sullivan. Rev. John P. Burns, spiritual director, made an eloquent address to the members, urging them to exhibit an active interest in the society and to return their postal cards in due season so that proper arrangements can be made for the communion breakfast. Remarks were also made by Pres. Lyons, Secretary Ward, M. H. McDough and others, all urging a large attendance of members. Pres. Lyons is very desirous of having every member attend and efforts will be made with that end in view. The literary committee with Patrick H. Corey as chairman promises a program of rare excellence at the communion breakfast, and hence it promises to be an interesting event.

REP. HUMPHREYS

MADE CHARGE AGAINST ASSOCIATED PRESS REPRESENTATIVE

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Representative Humphreys of Washington, introducer of the ship subsidy bill, spoke in the house yesterday upon various forms of combinations among foreign steamship lines, touching American ports and referring to discriminatory rates charged for sending American products abroad. In his speech he charged that certain foreign lines were represented in Washington by a member of the staff of the Associated Press. In that connection, the following was issued by the Associated Press:

"It having come to the knowledge of the executive officers of the Associated Press, that an employee in the Washington office has been engaged under salary by two steamship lines to furnish them with certain classes of information, an investigation has been made. It has been disclosed that while such employment did not at any time involve any act on the part of the employee which could in any way affect the integrity of the service nor even the integrity of the money that he was paid for his services."

"The next day after that Mr. Boas of New York, American general manager of the Hamburg-American Packet Co. was upon the witness stand and he testified that Wilber's compensation was $2000 a year. What does he do? What are the services that he renders his company?"

Mr. Humphrey's statements had reference to testimony given before the house committee which has been instructing the alleged existence of a lobby in opposition to the ship subsidy project.

This is what Mr. Humphrey said on this subject: "The hired representative of Herr Ballin and his interests is here in Washington today on the staff of the Associated Press, the greatest news gathering agency in the world. This gentleman's name is Mr. Jerome J. Wilber—and, when you remember how close the German merchant marine is to the German navy, it is at least suggestive that this representative of this giant foreign steamship trust should also be the representative of the Associated Press signed to our state, and our navy department."

"When he was on the witness stand the other day he refused to testify as to the integrity of money that he was paid for his services."

"The next day after that Mr. Boas of New York, American general manager of the Hamburg-American Packet Co. was upon the witness stand and he testified that Wilber's compensation was $2000 a year. What does he do? What are the services that he renders his company?"

STOPS ITCHING AT ONCE

Quite recently a chemist formulated a compound which possesses such soothing and curative properties that, when applied, it stops the itching of eczema and similar diseases immediately. Sufferers who use it are amazed at the rapidity of the relief which follows its use. The skin heals in an astonishingly short time, and all traces of the disease are eradicated. The name of this new remedy is Cadum, and it is sold by all druggists for 10c. and 25c. a box. It is also remarkably effective when used for acne, herpes, pimples, blackheads, psoriasis, itching piles, tetter, salt rheum, and skin diseases generally. A 10c box will verify all these statements.

SMALLER IMPORTS DURING THE MONTH OF MAY

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Foreign trade during the month of May shows smaller imports than in any month since August of last year and larger exports than in May of any year, with the single exception of 1907. The total imports for the month, as shown by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, were $119,829,808, against $133,023,369 in April and $162,999,435 in March of the present year. The excess of exports over imports for the month of May, 1910, is $11,215,620, against $7,262,443 in May of last year. The total imports for the 11 months ending with May, 1910, were $1,438,168,502, and the total exports, $1,617,153,178, making the excess of exports over imports for the 11 months' period, $178,984,676. The exports for the 11 months ending with May, 1910, exceed those of the corresponding months of last year by $71,507,663.

LOWELL COULDN'T HIT

And Hence Made But One Lone Score in Yesterday's Game

Leroy Osborne, Lowell's new pitcher, recently with Lawrence, was on the slab against Fall River yesterday and in seven innings passed six men though to give him his due he received a raw deal from Empire Connolly on the matter of balls and strikes. Fall River got only three hits off him, but a base on balls is often as good as a hit and sometimes better.

Lowell started off well with two batters by Tenney and Cooney that netted the home team's only run. After the first inning they failed to hit at all when men were on bases and hence lost the game.

First Inning
Lowell scored one run in the first inning. Fall River went to bat first and Butler hit to Osborne and was out at first. Weaver flied to Tenney and Devin hit to Cooney and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Fitzpatrick flied to Weaver. Tenney sent the ball to center field for a two bagger. Cooney then slammed out a two bagger to left field, scoring Tenney. Fitzpatrick struck out and Magee hit to Bowcock and was out at first.

Second Inning
Fall River tied the score in the second inning. Bowcock drew a base on balls. Sullivan in trying to get Bowcock off first threw bad and the runner went to second. He went to third on P. Sullivan's sacrifice. Bertwistle singled, scoring Bowcock. Weisenstein drew a base on balls and Perkins flied to Cooney. Bertwistle and Weisenstein then made a double steal but Wood hit to Boutles and was out at first.

Lowell got two men on base, but failed to score in the latter half of the inning. Blakely hit to Weaver and was retired at first. Boutles got a single and stole second. Sullivan got a base on balls. Perkins threw to second to get Boutles off the base, but threw bad and both base runners were advanced. Osborne struck out and Fitz hit to Weisenstein and was out at first.

Third Inning
Fall River got another run in the third inning. Butler-drew a base on balls and went to second on Weaver's sacrifice. Devin hit a Texas leaguer to center field scoring Butler. Bowcock flied to Tenney and P. Sullivan hit to Cooney and was out at first.

The Lowell players went out in quick order. Tenney hit to Weaver and died at first. Cooney flied to Weisenstein and Fitzpatrick struck out for the second time.

Fourth Inning
Bertwistle struck out and Weisenstein followed with a base on balls. Perkins singled and Wood flied to Sullivan. Weisenstein and Perkins tried a double steal and Weisenstein was nailed at third.

Lowell got as far as third in the latter half of the inning, but could not score. Magee drew a base on balls and went to second on Blakely's sacrifice and traveled to third when Boutles hit to Weisenstein and died at first, but Sullivan went out on strikes.

Fifth Inning
In the fifth inning Butler hit to Fitz and was out at first and Weaver followed with a base on balls. Devin hit to Tenney, who threw to second, getting Weaver, but Devin was safe. Devin stole second, but he died there for Bowcock went out on strikes.

In the latter half of the inning Osborne struck out. Fitz singled and stole second. Tenney hit to Butler and was out at first while Cooney hit to Bowcock and was retired at first.

Sixth Inning
There was no scoring in the sixth inning. P. Sullivan was first out on a fly to Blakely. Bertwistle drew a base on balls and stole second. Weisenstein hit to Fitz and was out at first. Bertwistle going to third. Perkins was third out on a fly to Fitzpatrick.

Fitzpatrick hit to Butler and died at first.

Seventh Inning
Wood struck out. Butler flied to Tenney and Weaver struck out.

Boutles hit to Wood and was out at first. Sullivan sent the ball to the left field fence for a two bagger. Smith then went to bat for Osborne and popped a fly to P. Sullivan. Fitz hit to Wood and was out at first.

Eighth Inning
Devin flied to Fitzpatrick. Bowcock hit to Fitz and was out at first while P. Sullivan struck out.

Tenney hit to Bowcock and died at first. Cooney hit to Butler and failed to reach first while Fitzpatrick hit to Weaver and was third out at first.

Ninth Inning
In the ninth inning Bertwistle flied to Tenney. Weisenstein singled to left field. Perkins tried to steal second and was thrown out.

Magee struck out. Blakely hit to Weaver and died at first. Boutles flied to Butler.

DIAMOND NOTES
Worcester today.
Double-header and a band concert tomorrow. First game at 2 sharp.

As long as they fail to hit when men are on bases, they'll find it extremely difficult to win games.

Osborne and Connolly, between them, walked six men; otherwise the score would have been different.

My old friend Billy Peters of the Lawrence Eagle once told me confidentially that umpires are born and not made. Last evening as I was walking along Central street near Jackson, a voice rang out from within the circle of men and women who surrounded the Salvation Army, crying: "Brethren, you must be born again!" And I hastened back to find Connolly and take him back to hear the prophetic words.

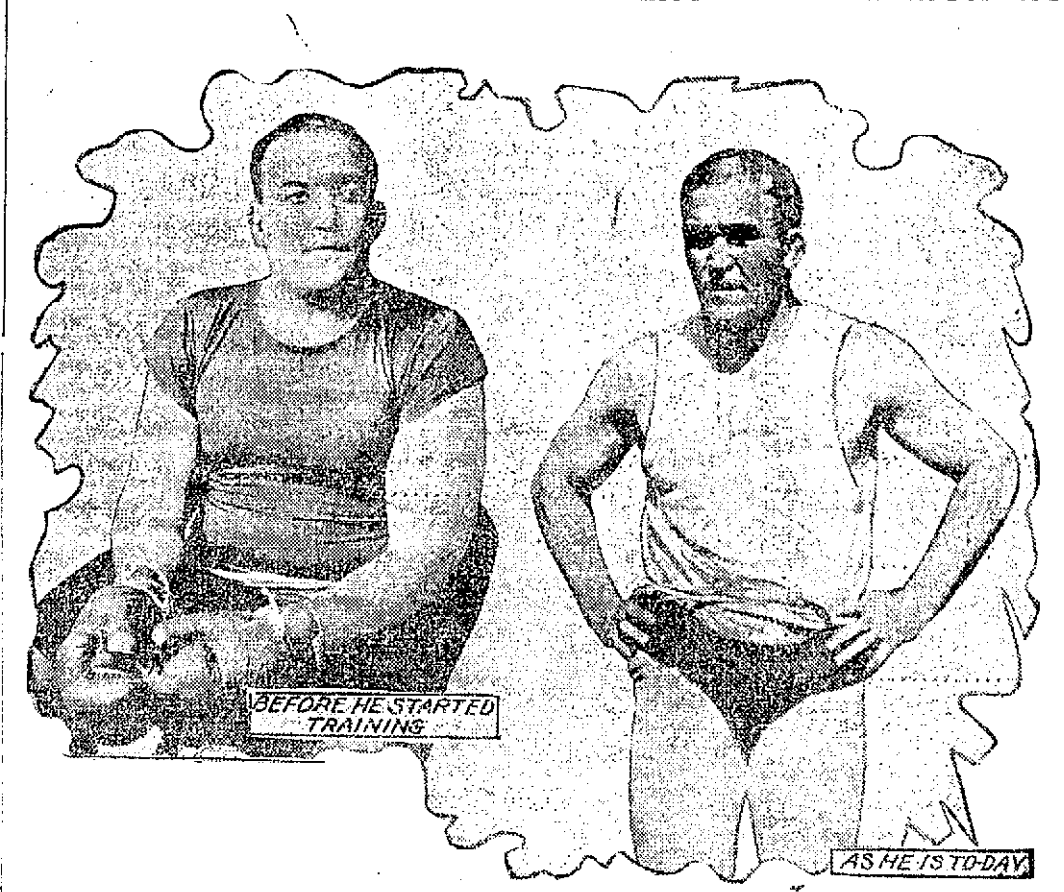

Pitcher Pusley of Somersworth, N. H., is expected here tomorrow.

Pat Sullivan had 18 putouts at first base yesterday, the season's record.

Walter Foye has joined the New London team in the Connecticut Trolley league. Jack Burns, former second baseman of the Lowell team, is manager and captain of the New London team.

Boutles put up one hand for the ball yesterday and the fans got after him but the ball was coming in such a

NOTE THE WONDERFUL CHANGE IN JEFFRIES' APPEARANCE WITHIN THE LAST THREE MONTHS

HOWARDENNAN, Cal., June 17.—When the news of Governor Gillett's orders to stop the contest were received here Jeffries was in such bad humor that many thought he might break training, but the big fellow has announced that he will continue with his work. In talking of the governor's orders Jeffries said: "The pity of it is that my work is practically done. I am in condition now and could fight at a day's notice. I have worked for fifteen months, and it would be tough now if all I have gone through is to go for nothing." The big fellow has surprised his friends by the grand condition he is in at present. The pictures show the difference three months' training has made in Jeff's appearance. One photograph was taken while he was on the last theatrical tour just prior to the time he began training. The other picture was taken recently and shows how Jeffries has reduced himself to fighting weight.

maner that he couldn't get the other hand to it.

Pitcher Osborne is another six-footer. Thus far Lowell's six-footers haven't amounted to much. But Osborne looks good.

Once more the lid is off to Butler, the Fall River third baseman. Little Jawn picked out a corner in Butler.

WALTER DOHERTY
WAS PRESENTED RING BY HIS FRIENDS LAST EVENING

An enjoyable surprise party was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Doherty, 1016 Gorham street, in honor of her son Walter. About fifty young friends assembled at the home and all assisted in making the affair a pleasant one. During the course of the evening's festivities Master Edward Kenney delivered an excellent speech and presented Master Doherty a beautiful ring. Although taken completely by surprise the recipient responded and expressed his gratitude in a most fitting manner. An entertaining musical program was given, which included: piano selections, Misses Jennie Nelson and Josie Doherty; songs, Masters Frank and Andrew Kenney, and others. Refreshments were served.

PROBABLY SUICIDE

Believed That Wellesley Girl Ended Her Life

BOSTON, June 17.—Miss Mabel R. Gordon, a popular Wellesley college, class of 1901, is believed to have committed suicide in Jamaica pond, sometime between 4 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following her sudden disappearance from the Adams Nervine hospital on Centre street, Jamaica Plain.

The only evidence of suicide, which is conclusive in the opinion of the police, was the finding of shoes, coat and hat which bore her name, on the shore of Jamaica pond, a short distance from the hospital. The authorities at the hospital and the young woman's father were communicated with and all interested in the case are convinced that the young woman drowned herself.

Up to a late hour last night officers searched the shore and patrolled the pond in boats, in an effort to find the body, but without success. This morning a squad of officers from the West Roxbury station will be detailed to grapple for the body unless there are other developments in the meantime.

The young woman's mind is believed to have been affected by overstudy and to this trouble the supposed suicide is ascribed. Miss Gordon was 29 years old, and a daughter of George Gordon, a prominent resident of Beverly Cove, superintendent of the summer place of Dudley L. Pickman on Neptune street.

Miss Gordon was unusually studious and most of her spare time was devoted to this work. In fact, she applied herself so steadily that she became nervous, and her ill health was attributed to these efforts.

About a week ago her father suggested that she enter the Adams Nervine hospital for treatment, and she went there of her own accord. At that institution she appeared to be in better spirits and improved slightly.

Yesterday about 4 o'clock she was missed, and when she did not return within a short period, her father was notified. Mr. Gordon went to Captain Furham of the Beverly police, and through his department descriptions of the young woman were sent to Boston and adjoining cities and towns. In the description it was stated that the young woman wore a gray suit, black sailor hat and tan shoes.

An attaché of the hospital identified the shoes and hat as the property of Miss Gordon, whose name was also found inside the hat. Dr. Edward B. Lane, who was in charge of the hospital last night, said that the young woman left the institution yesterday afternoon and that she had not been seen since. He would not discuss the theory of suicide.

Miss Gordon was a graduate of the Beverly high school in 1897, and entered Wellesley the next fall. She studied hard and graduated with honors. During the past few years her health has failed and last summer she toured Europe with her father in an effort at recovery.

POLICE COURT SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE HADLEY TODAY

William Carr, aged 17 years, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Ira Harris, aged 13 years.

According to the testimony offered in court Carr and a number of other boys were playing baseball at Lincoln park the night before last and Harris was one of the spectators. The ball was knocked in his direction and picking it up he threw it to one of the players, whereupon Carr picked up a stone and threw it at Harris, the missile striking the latter on the head and inflicting a deep wound.

Although Carr pleaded guilty he claimed that Harris was as much to blame for the accident as he was. He said that he was throwing stones in the air and Harris ran into one.

The court decided that Carr was guilty of the offense but felt that it would be better to have him pay expenses rather than give him a police court record.

Only One Drunk

There was but one drunk in court and owing to the fact that he was a first offender he escaped with the usual fine of $2.

Juvenile Court

Michael Giannoulas, aged 16 years, who assaulted Arthur Vigneault at the corner of Dutton and Merrimack streets last Wednesday night was brought before Judge Hadley at the juvenile session of the police court this morning and was fined $10. Giannoulas was one of the boys who went on strike at the Merrimack mills and Vigneault remained at work. All efforts to get Vigneault to give up his work were fruitless and the night before last when he was on his way home from the mill he was assaulted by the defendant.

CAPTAIN CURTIS

PRESENTED A SWORD BY MEMBERS OF COMPANY

Captain Curtis of Company G, of the high school regiment was agreeably surprised Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the school session when the members of his company gathered in one of the school rooms and presented him a sword.

The recipient has not missed a drill day in four years and the members of the company planned that if they failed to win the sword at the field day held last month that they would give him one.

Wednesday as Capt. Curtis was about to go home he was informed that he was wanted in one of the school rooms. There was nothing unusual about the request and he immediately went to the room designated only to find that the members of his company were assembled there. Before he had a chance to imagine what was to happen Lieut. Oliver S. Flint presented him the sword. Though taken wholly by surprise Capt. Curtis responded.

The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the home, 6 Cross street, Rev. William G. Mann, of Cumberland Mills, officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The bride was married in a traveling suit of gray.

For the past few years Mr. Upton has had charge of the carding department of L. E. Palmer, manufacturer of hammocks, in Middletown, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Upton received many beautiful presents. Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Upton left on their wedding tour. They will live in Middletown, Conn., where they will be at home to friends after September 1st.

STEAMER GROUND

PASSENGERS WERE TAKEN OFF IN SAFETY

NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—A number of passengers on the Colonial line steamer Concord, which grounded last night on Dutch Island while on her way to New York from Providence in West Narragansett bay, were taken off this morning by the steamer Narragansett and a launch from Fort Greble and landed at Sunderland, from which place they went to New York by trolley and train.

The Concord was resting easily this morning and will probably float at high water this afternoon and continue on her passage from Providence to New York.

The passengers remaining on board stated that they were comfortable and that the grounding of the steamer was not known until this morning.

THE BIG FIGHT PARSONS NAMED May Be Held at Reno, Nevada In a Slander Suit in Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Unless an unforeseen shift occurs in the tight situation a definite announcement that Jeffries and Johnson will come together for their championship battle at Reno, Nev., is expected today from Promoter Rickard, who last night made the following statement:

"It is safe to say that the fight will take place at Reno. I am not going to waste any more time or money in California. But Jeffries and Johnson will meet on the fourth of July if I have to take them on the desert to hold the fight, and even if it breaks me."

It is reported that arrangements are under way for the erection of a mammoth arena at Reno. According to Rickard's statement last night he will leave for Reno Sunday morning and take personal charge of preparations there.

"As everyone knows," he says, "the laws of Nevada are explicit and in that state there is nothing to prevent a dozen fights a day taking place as long as a regular permit is secured for each contest."

Alexander, a Reno man in whom I have the greatest confidence, has wired me that the Reno people will build us an arena free of charge and provide us with a license. The arena can be erected wherever necessary in ten days. It will hold about 25,000 spectators. I had word from both Jeffries and Johnson that they will fight anywhere I want them to."

The San Francisco Hotelmen's association met last night and adopted resolutions condemning the efforts to prevent the fight.

Jack Johnson seems to be worrying more over the attachment of his automobile by George Little, his deposed manager, than over the fight middle. But none of his troubles is affecting his appetite. After his workout yesterday he stood on the scales and found that he had gained two pounds in the last two days, tipping the beam at 215.

The champion said he probably would do only light gymnasium work today.

DESPERATE FIGHT

Took Place in Laboratory of Cornell Medical School

NEW YORK, June 17.—One of the laboratories of the Cornell medical school here was the scene this morning of a desperate battle between a burglar and one of the watchmen employed by the school. The watchman, James Mahoney, was seriously injured in the encounter.

According to Watchman Mahoney's story the intruder was filling his pockets with costly microscopic lenses when Mahoney detected him. The stranger who was unarmed, seized a $500 brass microscope and hurled it at the watchman. Mahoney dodged and jumped on the intruder. The latter was of powerful build and in spite of a rain of blows from Mahoney's club he soon had the watchman on the floor, pummeling him and kicking him. Mahoney's cries were heard by a passing policeman who vaulted from the street to a window ledge and jumped into the dark laboratory, smashing the plate glass window pane as he dove into the room. He gripped the burglar by the coat collar and held a revolver at the man's ear while Mahoney snapped a pair of handcuffs over his wrists. When he was searched at the police

COL. ROOSEVELT'S RETURN

Tomorrow Col. Roosevelt is to tread once more American soil after a year's absence that has been quite as eventful as any in his career. His experience in the Spanish American war was not half so thrilling as his great hunting expedition in the wilds of Africa; and his princely receptions at all the principal royal courts in Europe was an experience never to be forgotten.

What will he do after his return? That is the question of the hour. We surmise he will look up the Roosevelt policies with a view to having the compass of the ship of state regulated so that the needle will point directly to the polar star of the Roosevelt chart. Then will the ex-president give his loyal support to President Taft and declare that the interests of the country demand for him the most loyal support.

HOW LOS ANGELES WAS REDEEMED FROM CORRUPTION

Any city that contemplates the adoption of a new charter, should study well the results of charter reform as illustrated in a practical manner in the city of Los Angeles during the past eight years.

For a long time the city was in absolute control of gamblers and corrupt city officials who sold outright the interests of the city in franchises and natural resources for their own private gain. These forces as might be expected fought the movement for charter reform of the right kind. A charter commission was appointed and of course the corrupt interests were ably represented and they managed to submit to the people a charter without the recall and without the initiative and referendum upon which the reformers insisted. But it was to their great astonishment defeated.

The people took the matter into their own hands and after much contention, another draft of charter was submitted, this embodying the initiative and referendum as required by the reformers. The conservatives managed to arrange that all sections would be voted upon separately with a view to concentrating their opposition to the chief features to which they were opposed, but to their surprise these were carried by a vote of 6 to 1.

It was in 1902 that the charter was ratified by the people, and in 1903 the initiative was invoked in reference to four propositions for the location of slaughter houses within the city limits. The people with wonderful sagacity decided by a large majority in favor of the most desirable of all the propositions.

The initiative was again invoked successfully to defeat an ordinance passed by the city council, creating a public utilities commission that was made up mainly of representatives of the vested interests; it was also applied in overthrowing the power of the corrupt political machine and the adoption of a direct primary election law that gave the people complete control over political nominations.

By the initiative, the street car company was compelled to equip its cars with fenders, after the city council had been appealed to in vain for action in that direction.

In 1908 the initiative was applied to defeat the grant by the city council for a sum of $500, a city franchise worth several hundred thousand dollars. The matter was subsequently referred to the people and defeated by an overwhelming majority.

But this did not prevent the city council from attempting a still greater fraud upon the city. This time at the behest of street railway corporations it granted a franchise that secured to the existing corporations for all time the only ingress and egress to the city on one side. It was estimated to be worth over a million dollars. This time "Recall" petitions were gotten out for the removal of the men who had voted this steal quietly and without notice to the public, probably for a price. The city council knew what the result would be and promptly rescinded their action.

In 1909 a deal was framed in the city council to award the city printing to a certain publication for $25,000 more than the lowest bid upon the contract. The deal was in direct violation of the city charter and was also regarded as a bribe in lieu of political support from the publication favored. Here the "Recall" was invoked and the only councilman who stood for re-election was defeated two to one. The award being illegal was defeated without reference to the people.

But the last demonstration of popular rule under this new charter was the most striking and we might say spectacular, for it was directed against Mayor Harper on the ground that he and certain members of the city council had been detected in league with secret dens of vice and immorality.

The mayor and his friends vigorously denied the charges and instituted libel suits to the amount of $600,000 against the papers that published them.

The petitioners selected as their candidate Hon. George Alexander, a man of irreproachable character. Before the special election was held, however, the Evening Express published a complete confession from the chief promoter of dens of vice in the city and proved that a close corporation headed by the mayor was receiving $1,500 per month in lieu of protection.

This was too much for Mayor Harper and he withdrew from the contest and resigned his office, thus driven into retirement in ignominy and disgrace.

It is alleged that all the various proceedings by which the city was saved from plunder and villainy of the worst kind, netting millions of dollars and involving the burning disgrace of the city, cost only $25,000. Hence it appears that at least one city in this broad land has a workable charter that has proved effective in defeating schemes of plunder and infamy and in establishing a government of civic decency.

It behooves the various cities of New England that are in trouble with their public officials, to study the desirability of a charter that gives the people a prompt remedy for official rascality, incapacity or deliberate plunder through the machinery of legislation and under pretense of public duty.

cluded in his itinerary.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has been re-

-elected president of the New Eng-company, has signified his intention to be financially responsible for an agricultural and industrial school, to be located at Lyndonville, Vt., where it will form a part of the Lyndonville in question the distinction of being the first of its class to add an agricultural department.

endeavoring to gain the assistance of

Congressmen Keane and Hayes in military service. Buchmann left his native town twelve years ago, when he was twenty-one years old, and made a fortune in San Francisco. He recently returned to Strasburg to visit relatives and friends, and some in-former notified the authorities that he was subject to military service. His making a collection illustrating their native arts and ceremonials. Mrs.

JUDGE DECOURCY

IS NOT A CANDIDATE FOR

OFFICE

Judge Charles A. DeCourcy of the superior court, whose name has been mentioned in various papers in the state as a probable, available or possigress, yesterday formally declared for the first time that he is not and will not be a candidate for either office. He is perfectly contented with his present position on the bench.

In talking to a reporter in regard to the newspaper references he said:

"I have two or three years of experience and have remained silent, as these rumors were published without my consent or knowledge.

"Had my well-timed newspaper friends consulted me I should have told them that I am too contented with my present position to change it; and that when I came upon the bench all politi-

H. & H. railroad. The three men taken yesterday are negro porters employed on sleeping trains running between this city and New York.

At police headquarters they were booked as Bernard S. Page, alias P. Sylvester Page, 28 years old, of 91 Rutland square; David Banks, alias George Jackson, 30 years old, of Washburn terrace, North Cambridge; Eugene Brown, alias James Brooks, 23 years old, of 23 Claremont pk.

Warrants were obtained in the municipal court yesterday for the arrest of the porters by G. E. Stanford, representing the accounting department of the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad. Detectives employed by the railroad have been watching the porters. The stolen tickets, it is charged, were disposed of in shops at the South End.

Three weeks ago two other men were arrested for the alleged theft of tickets. The complaint charges that Page stole tickets valued at $166.

WOMEN'S CIRCLE*OF PAIGE STREET CHURCH MET LAST NIGHT

The regular monthly supper and social of the Women's circle of the Paige Street Free Baptist church was given last night and was in charge of the Eureka club. A corps of young women waited upon the tables while the women of the club attended to the kitchen.

A very fine entertainment followed the supper and the following numbers were on the program: Piano solo Miss Blanche MacDonald; reading, Master Earl Spaulding; songs, Miss Parkinson; recitation, Miss Nedra Cross; violin solo, Master Ralph Charles, accompanied by Miss Marion Charles; songs, Miss Katherine Gordon. The pianist was Miss Ola M. Sargent.

Worthington Street M. E. The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Worthington Street M. E. church took the form of a basket picnic yesterday at the home of Mrs. F. D. LABOR MEETING*San Francisco Favored For Panama Fair

A meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last night and a raft of routine business was transacted. The council voted to instruct the secretary to send telegrams to Senators Lodge and Crane, making known the council's desire that the house provisions of the sundry civil bill be supported by the Massachusetts senators. The council also voted in favor of San Francisco as a site for the world's fair to be held in 1915 in commemoration of the completion of the Panama canal. The secretary was instructed to send a telegram to Congressman Butler Ames, asking him to support the claims of the Pacific coast metropolis.

DOUBLE AFFLICTION*MOTHER AND HUSBAND OF WOMAN ARE DEAD

AMHERST, June 17.—Mrs. Ellen Heaton, aged 70, mother of Mrs. Mary Heaton Vorse, a well known writer, died Wednesday evening of heart failure in her home on Amity street.

HAVERHILL COUNCIL*REFUSES TO GRANT LICENSES TO DRUGGISTS

HAVERHILL, June 17.—Six applications for sixth class licenses to sell liquor in drug stores were given "leave to withdraw" by the municipal council at a meeting last evening, and three more will share the same fate when they come up for action next week.

The druggists had hoped the authorities would grant them the license in view of the fact that in all other ways the city has been tied up as tight as a drum, but the council refused to listen to their appeals.

In order that city hall might be decorated for the mammoth celebration of Fourth of July, a special appropriation of $100 has been made by the council, this making a total of $300 that the city will expend on the holiday.

CAUGHT AS CONGRESS WANED

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

WHEN the history of the doings of the second session of the Sixty-first congress is inscribed in letters of gold—or brass—on the annals of the nation one item on the record will stand out as dazzling as the whiteness of the White House—IT BUMPED UNCLE JOE CANNON.

The history of that feat is still too fresh in the public memory to need repetition here, so it will not be repeated, although in casting about for things to say about the session one can find few affairs so interesting. Wherever one turns in the history, at any rate in the greater part of its length, he finds a plethora of words and a paucity of accomplishment. Always excepting what happened to Uncle Joe. And that was some months ago.

One is reminded of a story told on congress—not new, perhaps, but not so old that it won't bear retelling. The gallery overlooking the hall of representatives once held two visitors. A father and his young son, at the opening of a day's proceedings. When the chaplain had concluded his invocation little Rollo asked, "Father, why do they have a man to pray for congress?" The paternal reply was, "He doesn't pray for congress, son; he takes a look at congress and prays for the country."

Some Able Addresses.

It seems to be the general opinion, however, that the work of the session has not been such as to require the addressing of any special petitions to Providence for the country's welfare. The major part of the time since the first Monday of last December has been devoted to discussion of the measures advocated by President Taft in his message and speeches—the amendment of the interstate commerce law to give greater powers to the commission, the postal savings bill, the bill looking to the conservation of the country's resources, the statehood bill and other "administration" measures. Outside of these the session has not been marked by the introduction of any great, epoch making laws. There have been, however, some able addresses, notably in the senate, in advocacy of or in opposition to the bills favored by Mr. Taft. Some of them, such as Senator Cummins' three day speech opposing the administration's railroad bill, have attracted the attention of a listening world to the extent which they deserved. Others, probably equally as able forensic efforts, have gone "the way to dusty death" in the pages of the Congressional Record, that sepulcher of the hopes and tears, the aspirations and ambitions, of congressional orators. Probably as many more have broken into the Record under the "leave to print" by which the senate and house save themselves from listening to speeches which the author does not want to deliver and the alleged audience does not want to hear.

Speaker Cannon's Views.

Some of the really great speeches of the session have not made the impression on the country which they deserved. If we may believe Speaker Cannon, the fault lies mainly with the newspapers. In a recent letter, speaking of the relative space given in the papers to subjects of real importance and to such matters as the sending to the speaker of a freak postal card "pretending to be the plea of several young ladies who desired the speaker to aid them in securing husbands," Speaker Cannon said:

"A few weeks ago there were several incidents, if not important developments, in congress on one day. One southern senator who had for a few weeks occupied a seat in the senate by appointment of the governor delivered a farewell address which was unique both in the fact itself and in the character of his utterances.

"Another southern senator presented a constitutional argument on the postal savings bill which held the attention of the senators and members, who almost unanimously agreed that it was one of the greatest arguments made in the senate in recent years.

"A member of the president's cabinet appeared before the joint committee charged with the investigation of the interior department and gave positive testimony of importance, taking direct issue with one of the principal accusers of Secretary Ballinger.

"The senate committee appointed to investigate the cost of living began its hearings that day and heard important testimony. The house committee on agriculture heard a number of university presidents on the bill to enlarge the scope of the Morrill act for federal aid to agricultural and mechanical education.

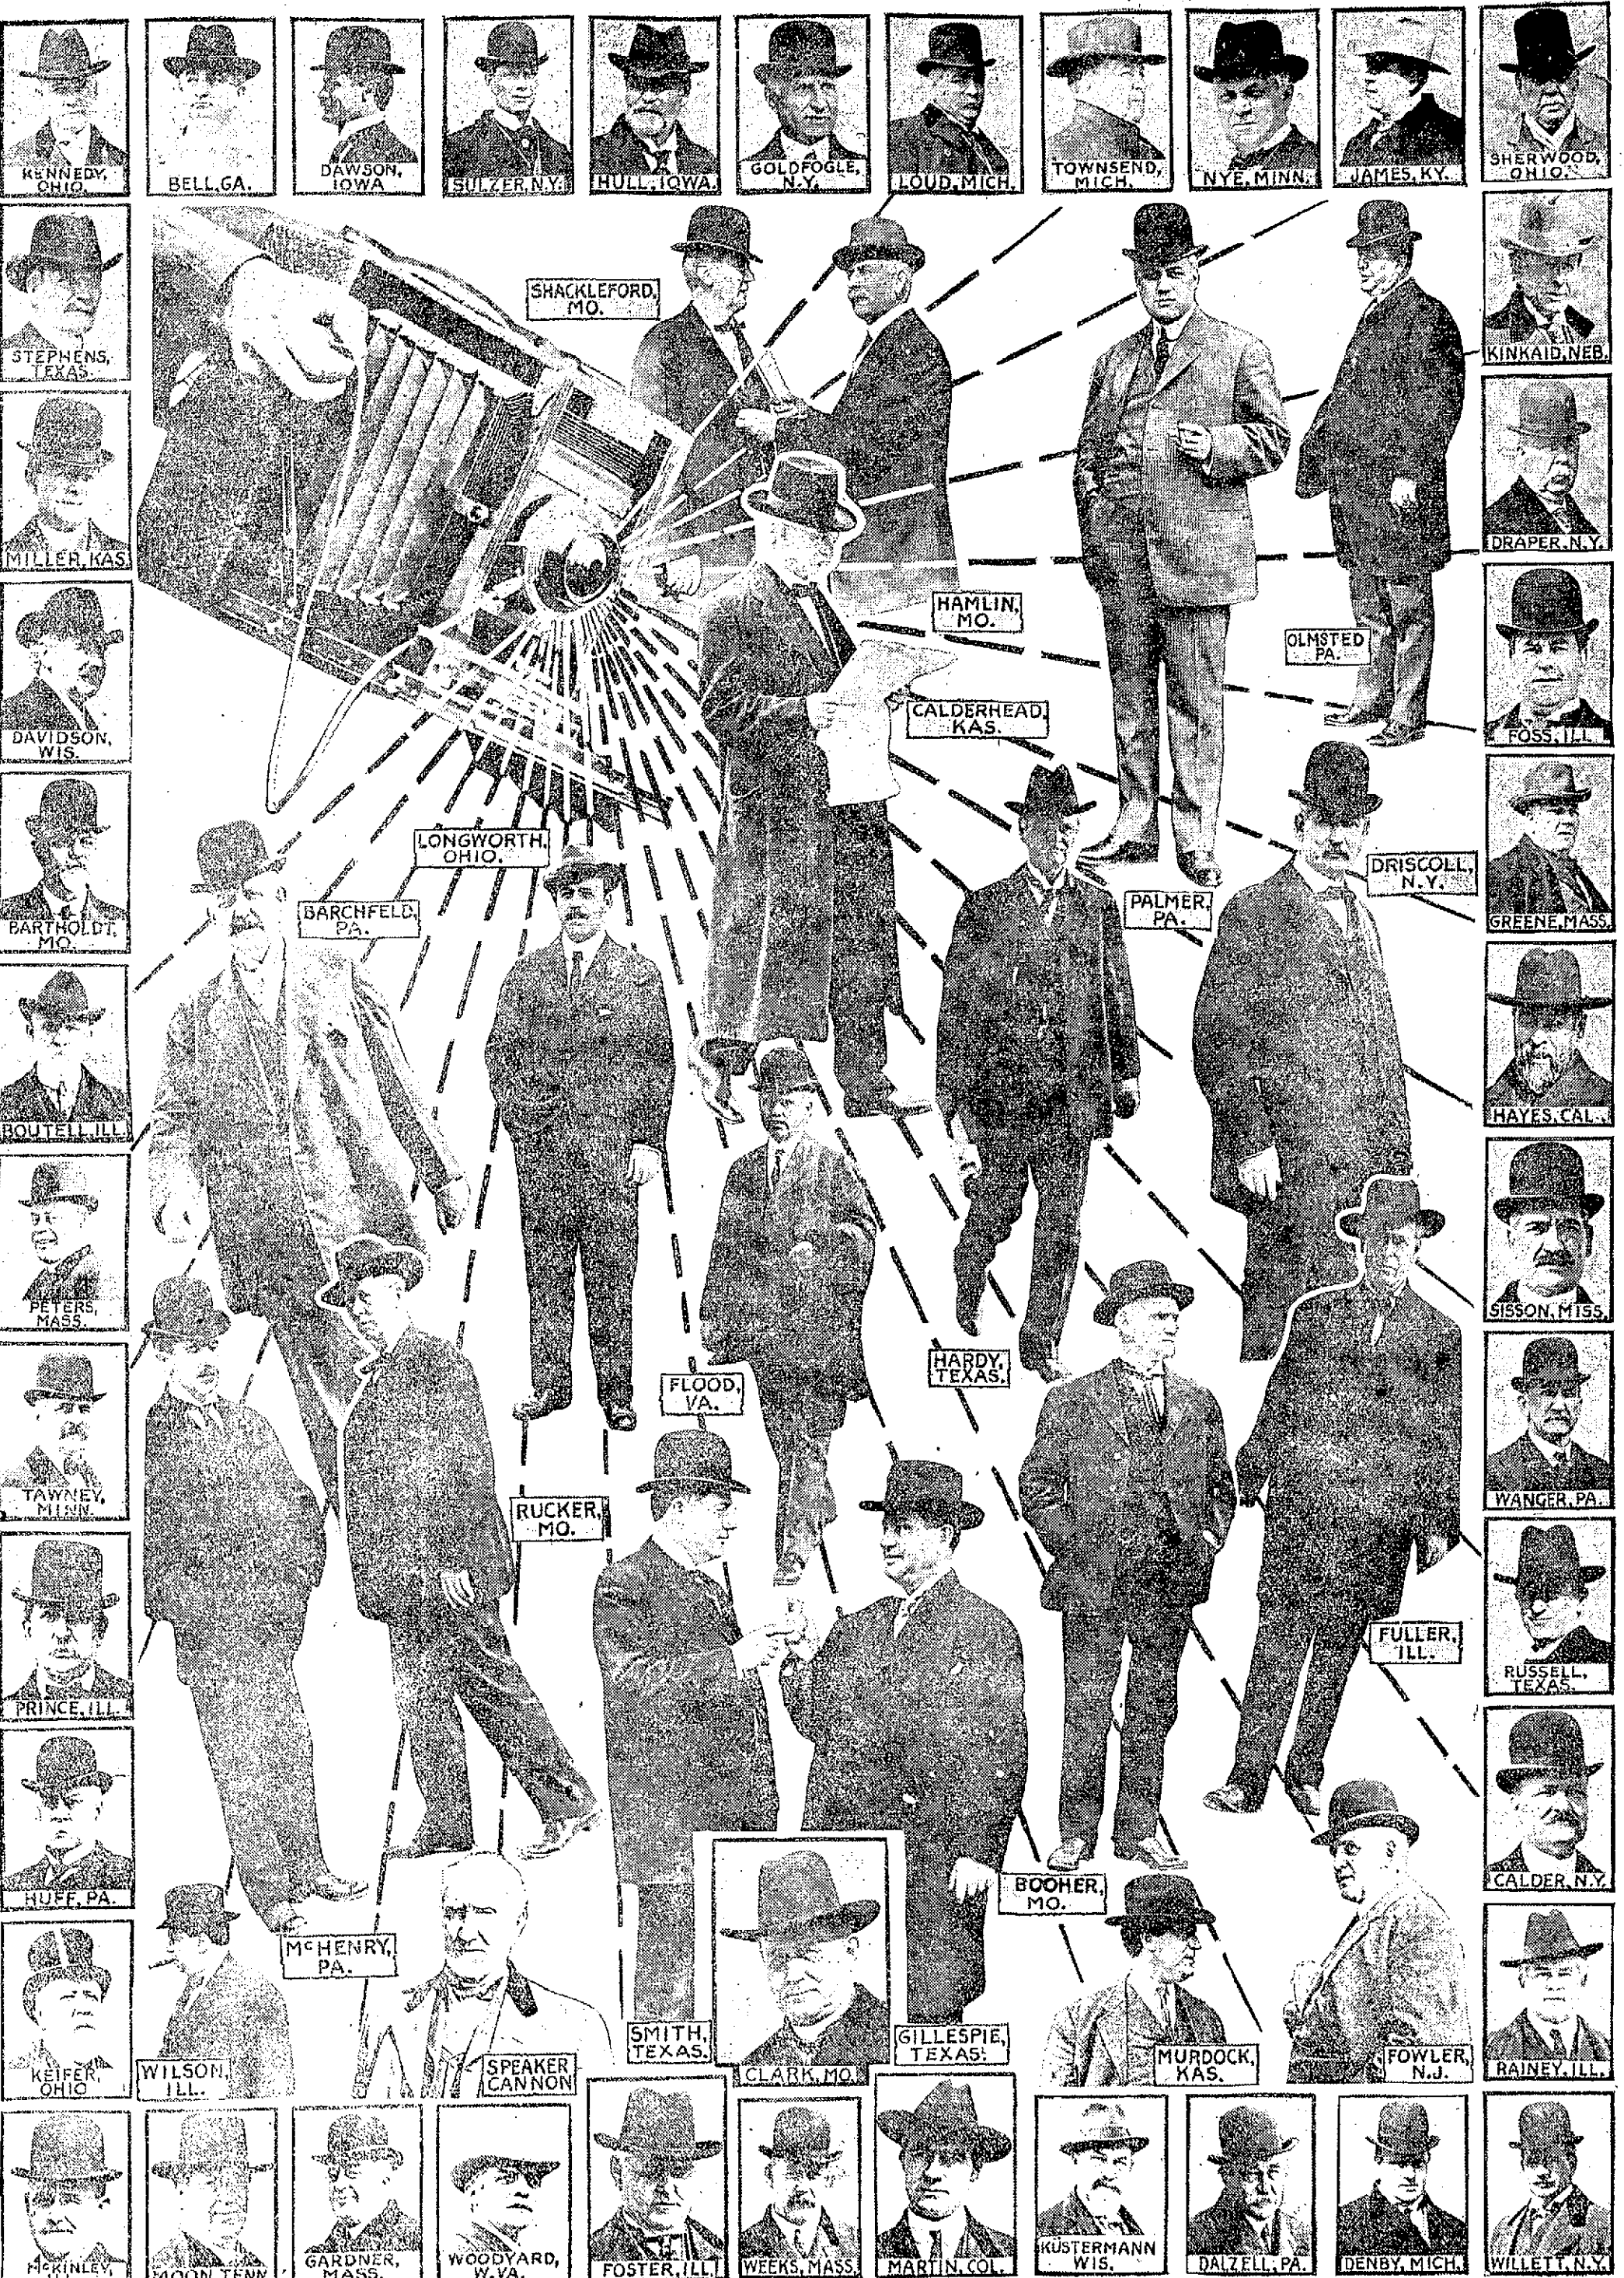

"A subcommittee of the committee on the District of Columbia in the house gave a hearing to Dr. Wiley on the high cost of living.

"The army appropriation bill, carrying more than $100,000,000, was under consideration in the house. The same day there was found in the speaker's mail an anonymous postal card pretending to be the plea of several young ladies who desired the speaker to aid them in securing husbands.

"Here were six subjects of public importance and one freak postal card, and the latter secured second place in the newspapers as measured by space, headlines and position on the first page the next morning. The farewell address of Senator Gordon had first place, and 'Uncle Joe's matrimonial bureau' had second place, while the constitutional argument against postal savings banks, the high cost of living, the extension of federal aid to agriculture, education, the defense of a great executive department against slander and the appropriation of $100,000,000 for the army were each dismissed with a paragraph."

Proceedings Followed Closely.

In spite of Mr. Cannon's pessimistic judgment concerning the relatively small amount of attention given in the newspapers to really big things there is no doubt that the doings under the big dome in Washington are followed carefully and intelligently throughout the country.

SKULL FRACTURED

Lawrence Man Probably Fatally Injured

LAWRENCE, June 17.—Anthony Pitkowski, of 29 Canal street, was thrown from a motorcycle at Essex and Lawrence streets, yesterday afternoon in a collision with the wagon of Chester D. Abbott of Andover. The latter was driving across Essex street and was obliged to change his course by the approach of a street car. Pitkowski was riding down Essex street on his bicycle and apparently lost control of the machine and crashed into the wagon.

Examination of Pitkowski at the hospital revealed a badly fractured skull, the break having occurred through the orbit of the eye, the ball of which was lost. There is little chance of his recovery. He was about 22 years of age. It is said that he bought the motorcycle only a few days ago.

NEVADA WILLING

TO HAVE FIGHT ON REQUEST
OF $1000

RENO, Nev., June 17.—Billy McCarty, representing Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason, promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, arrived last night to ascertain definitely whether there would be any possibility of opposition to holding the contest here. County and state officials assured them that the payment of a license fee of $1000 was the only requisite. Mr. McCarty said that Sid Hester and Tom O'Day in charge of the Langford-Kaufman fight, were willing to go on a double program on July 4 in the event the Frisco obstacle could not be overcome.

BURNING VESSEL

NEW YORK, June 17.—As the Mauretania, which arrived today from Liverpool, was approaching the harbor at 9:10 last night, her officers sighted a burning vessel at 20 miles east of the Fire Island lighthouse. The vessel was apparently a lumber-laden schooner and was ablaze fore and aft. The Mauretania slowed down on approaching the burning craft but it soon became evident that there was no one on board.

After making sure that no boats from the burning craft were hovering in the vicinity, the Mauretania proceeded.

FOUR DROWNED

Chinese Sailors Tried to Escape

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—As the British steamship Highland Monarch was proceeding down the Schuylkill river today, bound for Auckland, New Zealand, seven members of the Chinese crew leaped overboard in an endeavor to escape. Four were drowned and the remaining three were captured.

The drowning was the culmination of a mutiny that broke out last night among twenty Chinamen because they had not been granted shore leave while the vessel was loading. The mutiny was suppressed at the time after a Chinaman had endeavored to stab the first mate. This morning the Highland Monarch got under way with the Chinese in the stockhold, firing the whistles. Suddenly as the steamship was passing through the draw at Pennock's Ferry bridge a dozen Chinamen appeared above deck and seven of them leaped overboard. Captain Wood who was on the bridge tooted the whistle, stopped the ship and ordered a crew to man a boat. In the struggle for the men had to fight the strong tide and four of them sank before reaching shallow water. The other three just managed to reach shore and were taken to a police station.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST NEWTON, June 17.—It was wet going when the eight survivors in the Massachusetts amateur golf championship started today on the third round at the Brae Burn Country club. Something heavier than a Scotch mist was falling, making the fair green very soft and the putting greens uncertain. Yet a score or more enthusiastic followers of the game crowded about the first tee when the big match of the day between the title holder, Percival Gilchrist, of the home club, and former champion John G. Sanderson of the adjoining Woodland Golf club drove off down the long slope to the first hole. The second pair away was T. R. Fol-ter of Wollaston and J. N. Manning of Brae Burn, followed by F. C. Davidson of Oakley and H. W. Stucklen of Brae Burn, the latter having the New Hampshire championship in his bag. The last pair was Al Squire of the Alpine club, Fitzburg, and G. R. Angus of Brae Burn.

150 YEARS OLD

AMHERST, N. H., June 17.—Amherst, once the leading town in the state, the seat of the state legislature and the state courts, the birthplace of Horace Greeley, and the scene of Daniel Webster's first plea in court, today with notable exercises celebrated its 150th anniversary.

The town was filled with hundreds of old residents and citizens of surrounding towns while the presence of Governor Henry B. Quinn and his staff in uniform lent impressiveness to the scene. The day's program opened with a band concert on the spacious park in the center of the town, where the exercises of the day were held. Dr. George H. Wilkins of Newtonville, Mass., was president of the day and the historical address was delivered by Col. Roteh of Milford.

Sports filled out the day with other exercises incident to the dedication of a marker placed on the site of the first meeting house.

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the City Auditor Contains Some Interesting Facts

The annual report of the city auditor for the year 1909 is out and can be had for the asking at the city hall. It is the seventy-fourth annual report of the general treasury fund receipts and payments for the financial year beginning January 1, 1909 and ending December 31, 1909. In presenting his report to the city council the city auditor says:

To the Honorable, the City Council, Gentlemen:

In accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city of Lowell, I have the honor to transmit, herewith, the annual report, showing the financial transactions of the city for the year ending December 31, 1909.

The report is arranged by schedules presenting the general treasury fund balances, receipts, appropriations, transfers, payments and much important information.

During the past year the new ordinance became effective making the treasurer's office the receiving and disbursing office, and the auditor's office the accounting office, thereby eliminating all duplications in accounts; a new uniform check system for the payment of bills has proved very beneficial to the general public, as has also the uniform payrolls for the city employees.

The reports of the treasurer, accountant, sinking fund commissioners, and the audit of trust funds are included in the book.

Respectfully submitted,
Charles D. Paige,
Auditor of Accounts.

The following report by the expert accountants who audited the books and accounts of the city treasurer is made to the mayor, and is included in the auditor's report:

Hon. John F. Meehan, Mayor, City of Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: In accordance with the request made of us we have audited the books and accounts of your city treasurer and report thereon as follows:

We balanced the cash as found on March 2, 1910, and having obtained from the banks certificates of balances and the checks which had come in to that time reconciled the bank accounts with the cash book of the city treasurer. We found the cash on hand and the balances in the banks to be as shown on the books and having verified all the footings for the past year, since our previous audit, we certify to the correctness of the cash account; we also certify that there were adequate vouchers for all payments for the year as shown to have been made since our last report.

We also verified the receipts and payments for the year with the reports of the same to the city auditor and found that they had all been correctly reported to and entered by the city auditor upon his books. As his annual report will give all the figures we do not deem it necessary to deal with them in this report.

We examined the receipts for taxes for the years 1901-1909, inclusive, as shown on the books of the city treasurer and collector and the reports of the same to the city auditor, and from that examination would report that all collections as shown to have been made were correctly reported to the city auditor and accurately entered upon his books.

Our examination of the collections of the sidewalk and sewer assessment assured us that they were correctly reported as made and that the books of

WARNING ISSUED

By the Superintendent of Buildings

The superintendent of buildings wants it understood that permits to build must be obtained before the building for which the permit is intended is under way. "Some builders seem to have the impression," said the inspector today, "that a permit to build or make alterations is a mere matter of form and that there is no necessity to apply for it until the building is well underway or the alterations completed. Hereafter all builders must apply for permits before they have started in on the job for which the permit is required."

George R. Dana has been granted a permit to build a $7000 garage at the corner of East Merrimack and Stuckpole streets. The building will be 107 by 73 feet. It will be of brick and one story high.

The number of applications for permits to build "home garages" are ever on the increase and it but goes to show that the automobile business must be good in Lowell.

LOCAL POLICE

Enjoyed Banquet With Charlestown Men

The officers of the state prison in Charlestown came to Lowell today to meet the Lowell police officers on the green diamond at the Moore Spinning Co.'s cricket grounds, but owing to the inclemency of the weather the game was called off.

When it was announced that there would be no game the visitors, accompanied by about a dozen members of the local force, remained to the Lowell Inn, where Thomas E. Homan prepared one of his best offerings. After the dinner had been satisfied the cigars were passed around and post prandial exercises were held but they were of an informal nature and song and music were in order for several hours.

The last time that the "hunch" came to Lowell, the Lowell fellows trimmed them, but today they were well equipped for the battle and with the assistance of William H. Sanborn and A. E. Dunham, who were former officials at the Lowell jail, the Charlestown "gang" expected to turn the tables on the Lowell nine.

The principal topic of conversation during the banquet was the season which never happened and while Dunham, Sanborn and a big fat fellow who it is said is one of the best ever, were telling what they could do if the game had been held, Matt McMan and several of the other locals rehearsed the same which was held last year.

At that rate, the visitors were really entertained and the only regret is that they will not be able to make another trip to this city this year.

STOCK MARKET

CLOSED STEADY BUT LIFELESS THIS AFTERNOON

The General Market Remained in Quiet Condition—Fraction Was Added to Annamargated Copper

NEW YORK, June 17.—Changes of an eighth to a quarter measured the range of the opening price movement for nearly all the prominent stocks. The tone was uncertain and irregular and the dealings insignificant in volume. Mo. Pac. gained.

There was a slight movement upward in which Reading and Amal. Copper were prominent. The advance did not hold. Business was small.

The business of the morning in the stock market was at a low level of activity for the year. The price movement was correspondingly sluggish and uncertain. At noon prices were at a higher level than last night. St. Louis & San Francisco 2nd pfd. and Republic Steel rose 2 and Wisconsin Central and National Lead 1. Toledo, St. Louis & Western lost 2. Bonds were irregular.

Toledo, St. Louis & Western pfd. dropped 3 points. The list otherwise was not essentially changed.

Only a few orders were executed and these were in most cases at a slightly higher level. Amal. Copper added a fraction to its former rise, making its gain almost a point.

The market closed steady but lifeless. A fraction was added to the price of Annamargated Copper but the general market remained lethargic. Railway Steel Spring and Pullman receded 1 and Toledo, St. Louis & Western pfd. 4.

TO STOP FUTURE DEALINGS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—It is expected now that the Scott anti-option bill prohibiting futures transactions in cotton exchanges will be called up in the house next Tuesday.

Today the conference report on the railroad bill is expected to have right of way and many of the members of the house will be away Saturday to attend the Roosevelt home-coming in New York. Mr. Fitzgerald's suspension day. Rep. Fitzgerald's amendment to extend the provision to all futures transactions instead of confining the prohibition to cotton dealings in futures will add the words "and grain and other farm products" wherever the bill refers to cotton.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, June 17.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. from leading business quarters indicate quiet throughout distributing points in the east; in the west excellent crop prospects encouraged good fall commitments. A more cheerful feeling is noted at Boston where more reasonable weather has stimulated the demand for retail summer goods. Unsatisfactory conditions will continue in footwear and in the cotton goods market while wool and woolen goods are extremely dull.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities of the United States aggregate $2,711,429,974, a loss of 14.3 per cent. as compared with the same week last year.

The Money Market

NEW YORK, June 17.—Prime mercantile paper 4 3/4 to 5 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange firm at 484.60/484.70 for 60 day bills and at 486.80 for demand. Commercial bills 484.48/484.52. Bar silver 53 1/2. Mexican dollars 44. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

Spot Cotton

NEW YORK, June 17.—Cotton spot closed quiet, 10 points lower. Midlups 15.60; Mid Gulf 15.20. Sales, 264 bales. The cotton exchange here will be closed Saturday, July 2, and Monday, July 4.

Boy Pupils Gave Excellent Entertainment Last Evening

Academy of Music Packed to the Doors at 28th Annual Closing Exercises—Musical and Dramatic Numbers on Program

The Academy of Music was crowded to the doors last evening when the pupils of St. Patrick's Boys' school held their 28th annual closing entertainment preparatory to the awarding of diplomas, which will take place on Sunday morning at St. Patrick's church prior to the high mass.

Among the guests of honor at the exercises were the clergy of St. Patrick's parish, including Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., and the following members of the Xaverian Brotherhood: Brothers Raphael and Alban from St. John's Industrial school, West Newton; Brothers Cyril, Dunstan, Adrian and Anselm and Virgil from East Boston.

The ushers were Messrs. Charles A. Griffin, James Clinton, Martin McCurtin, Hubert Brown and Edward Neilligan.

The program was formally opened by the Middlesex orchestra, which played Anglemans' march, "Our Gallant Officers," and then came the following excellent musical numbers:

Overture, "Figue D'Amor".....Lappe

Orchestra.

Opening chorus, "When My Ship Comes Over the Sea".....Thompson

Sanctuary Choir.

Solo, "The Lover and the Bird".....Guglielmo

Master Peter Kane.

Intermezzo, "Woodland Whispers,".....Cybalka

Orchestra.

Musical Comedy.

The singing of the Sanctuary choir and of Master Kane was particularly pleasing and both numbers were generously applauded.

Then followed the delightful musical comedy with the following cast:

Dr. Curem, a renowned medical practitioner.....James F. Roarke

Jeremiah, his servant, John L. Hamill

Zingarelli, an Egyptian oracle,.....John J. Bolan

Rufus Smiley, counsellor at law,.....William M. McCarthy

Prof. Santitas, expert on lunacy,.....Patrick J. O'Hearn

Jim Leary, a hostler, John A. O'Brien

Officer Brown, one of the finest,.....Peter P. Gill

Maj. Skinfint, a retired English officer,.....Eugene J. Dean

Fritz Dinkelspiel, a man of family,.....James A. Delmore

Members of the Dinkelspiel family:

Hans.....Edward Saunders

Sakey.....Harry Keyes

Willie.....Peter Kane

Milde.....Robert Shinkwin

Fritzie.....Thomas Perry

As Dr. Curem, James F. Roarke gave a most amusing interpretation of the part. He was right at home behind the footlights while as his servant "Jeremiah," John L. Hamill, proved to be a born comedian. No little fun was contributed by the members of the Dinkelspiel family who were "right on their jobs" throughout.

Then followed a pretty and gracefully executed flag drill by the small boys and a duet, "There's a Sign in the Heart," rendered faultlessly by Edward Connolly and John Bolan, two sweet voiced singers. The orchestra gave a popular medley and then followed the clever presentation of the two-act drama "The Young Poachers," with the following cast:

Mr. Tyler.....Reginald McAdoo

John, his gardener, Daniel McCarthy

High school pupils:

Will Bradley.....Leo McCarthy

Ned Hunter.....Cornelius Clohesy

Sam Jones.....George Campbell

Patty Rice.....Thomas Conaton

Joe Grim.....James Molloy

Tom Brown.....Fred Smith

Jack Weston.....William Connelly

Farmer Handy.....James Klerman

Mr. Knowlton, principal of school,.....Joseph Dineen

Officers, Walter Sargent, Wm. Connelly

The two leading characters, Masters Reginald McAdoo and Daniel McCarthy, received great applause for their fine dramatic work in these two exacting roles. They showed careful training and much ability. Among the high school pupils, Leo McCarthy and Jus. Molloy were particularly good.

A song by a quartet, consisting of Daniel A. Powers, James S. King, Edward J. O'Neill and Thomas F. Tobin, was well rendered and the closing chorus, "The Hunter's Call," given by the sanctuary choir, was one of the best musical numbers of the evening.

The whole affair was carried out in a manner that reflected credit on pupils and teachers alike and more especially on Mr. Charles N. Sladen, instructor of the sanctuary choir and Mr. John J. McNabb, dramatic instructor. Mr. Michael J. Johnson was the accompanist of the evening.

The school closed for the season today.

Superior General's Visit

The Xaverian Brothers of St. Patrick's Boys' school entertained three distinguished guests this week when an official visit was paid them by the Very Rev. Bro. J. Chrysostom of Brugge, Belgium, superior general of the Xaverian order, who was accompanied by Rev. Bro. Edmund, former provincial of England, and Rev. Bro. Isadore of Baltimore, provincial or the order in America. They are making an official visit to all the houses of the order in America. From Lowell they went to St. John's Preparatory school at Danvers, Mass.

The annual retreat of the Xaverian brothers of the northern province will open at St. John's, Danvers, on July 26, and will be attended by all of the brothers of St. Patrick's school. The retreat will be conducted by the Jesuit fathers. At the close of the retreat the six weeks' summer school for the brothers will be held at the college.

SPRING SIGNS ON THE SKIN

Pimples, Itching Spots, Eruptions, Blotches, Fever Blisters

The little blotches, itching spots, discolorations, pimples, fever blisters, etc., which appear on the skin at this time of the year, indicate that the pores are overtaxed in their work of helping to renovate the system. A little poslam applied as soon as these troubles show, will cause them to quickly disappear, leaving the skin in perfect condition to perform its duties.

In skin troubles of every form, affecting both infants and adults, poslam produces beneficial results from first applications, stopping all itching at once. Eczema, acne, herpes, tetter and similar diseases yield to it readily. Poslam is non-greasy, flesh-colored and cannot be detected in the daytime. When used for scaly scalp, dandruff, boils, sores, chafing, bites, etc., it drives away soreness and cures rapidly.

Poslam is on sale for 50 cents at Falls & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's and the Riker-Jaynes Drug Co. as well as all drug stores. But a supply sufficient for most minor troubles, to clear the complexion overnight and rid the face of pimples, will be sent free of charge to anyone who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, 82 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

BIG CONFERENCE

Of Unitarians Held at Tyngsboro Church

About 200 delegates from neighboring towns gathered at Tyngsboro yesterday to attend the 88th session of the North Middlesex conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The meeting was prolific of many interesting discussions and sound addresses.

After a hymn and prayer led by Rev. Granville Pierce of Ashby, the secretary, Rev. Geo. C. Wright, of Lowell, called the conference to order. In the absence of President Abbot, Rev. B. E. Bailey of Westford was chosen chairman.

Rev. C. T. Billings of Lowell precipitated a somewhat animated discussion by suggesting that hereafter a charge of 25 cents a plate be made for the conference dinner. The women, however, would not stand for any break in the traditional form of hospitality and that settled it.

Rev. E. Tallmadge Root, secretary of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts Church Federation, spoke on the churches as community builders. He said that the activities and ideals of the 19th century were for individual prosperity and salvation.

The dominating activities and ideals of the present century are distinctly for community building and betterment. He cited numerous concrete illustrations; the commission for bettering of country life, the movement for the conservation of natural resources, the awakening of the civic conscience, the growing interest and work for better city building and better safeguards of health and life, through community or public efforts.

Now all these splendid movements appeal to the church for contributions of moral energy and spiritual power. In order to develop the social conscience and the cooperative spirit, John Frederic Oberlin and John Calvin were graphically referred to as splendid examples of men who did community building as ministers of the churches in a way that makes their work not only a means of instruction but of inspiration. The most needed service today for the church is that of community leadership in the things of the spirit. The church is an organization for developing and training moral impulse.

The discussion was led by Rev. P. H. Cressy of Grafton who agreed with everything that Mr. Root said. He believed his function as a minister was to preach, and it was the duty of his congregation to practice.

Others taking part in the discussion were Rev. C. T. Billings, Rev. George W. Brown of the Union Evangelical church, Tyngsboro; Rev. F. W. Holden and Mrs. Holden of Milford, N. H.; Rev. George C. Wright and Rev. N. S. Hongland.

Mr. Holden gave an interesting account of the movement among the farmers in his town for cooperative production and distribution of farm products. He is the president of a cooperative creamery association, and over 100 farmers came in one day last week to get their checks for their first month's returns. He believed that it brought the different denominations represented in the town into closer fellowship. The forenoon session closed with an inspiring devotional service conducted by Rev. Dudley R. Child of Pepperell.

Then the pastor of the local church made the dinner announcement. The dinner was served in the upper town hall. The Rev. George W. Brown, who has recently accepted a call to the Tyngsboro Evangelical church, was called on to pronounce the blessing.

The afternoon session began with Miss Belle Perham at the organ. Mrs. Paul Kable sang very effectively the beautiful solo, "A Message from Heaven," accompanied by H. T. Bancroft on the violinello. Frank P. Chisholm, a graduate of Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., was invited to address the conference. He gave an interesting account of the work that the institution has done and is doing.

Resolutions in appreciation and recognition of the life and character of the Rev. William Brown, for 20 years a faithful and helpful member of the conference, was read by Rev. Mr. Pierce of Ashby, chairman of the committee, and was adopted by a rising vote. A collection was taken in aid of the First church in Francesstown, N. H., and a roll call of the churches was called. The number in attendance showed nearly 200.

The address of the afternoon was by Rev. George Willis Cooke of Wakefield. He spoke of the demand of our generation in regard to the practical results of religion as organized in churches. The discussion that followed was led by the Rev. Richmond Fisk, D. D., of Ayer. The discussion over, a vote of thanks was extended the Tyngsboro church for its hospitality and the conference adjourned with a benediction by Rev. Benjamin Bailey.

LARCENY CHARGE

Man Stole $100 Given to Effect Cure

BOSTON, June 17.—Convicted of larceny, Giuseppe Orlando was sentenced to the house of correction for one year by Judge Wait in the superior criminal court yesterday. He obtained the money from Dominick Colarusso under the pretense that he would send it to a priest in Italy who could effect a cure of his daughter, Eveline Colarusso, by prayer.

The defendant had a barber shop in Sheafe street, North End. He lived in Cambridge. Miss Colarusso was in the habit of sitting on the steps of the barber shop. She had been afflicted with an incurable disease. Orlando asked her to marry him, but her father would not consent to such a marriage because of the girl's health. He did not tell the girl or her father that he was married. He was sorry that the father had interposed an objection to his marriage.

He seemed anxious about the girl's health and told the father he knew a priest who could cure her by prayer in consideration of $200. To show his good faith Orlando was willing to contribute $100 toward the $200, and the father handed over $100. Though the money was supposed to have been forwarded to the priest, there was no change in the condition of the girl's health.

Explaining the failure of a change for the better, Orlando said he forgot to send the priest a box of the girl's hair, a piece of her dress and a handful of earth upon which the house in which the girl lived stood.

All three essentials to the cure were furnished to him and as time elapsed the girl and her father patiently awaited some noticeable change in her condition, but her pallid cheeks furnished little hope of her regaining her health. Despairing of the prayer cure, the father and girl finally concluded that they had been deceived. The matter was brought to the attention of the police and Orlando was charged with the theft of $100 from the girl's father and after a two days' trial a jury found him guilty.

MURDER CHARGE

Two Men Were Placed Under Arrest

RUMFORD FALLS, Me., June 17.—Giuseppe Pietrantono and his brother, Rinaldo Pietrantono, Italian laborers, about 35 and 36 years old respectively, were yesterday afternoon lodged in Paris jail by Deputies Hart of Wilson mills and Elliott of Rumford, where they are held without bail for the October term of court on the charge of murder of Vincenzo Gatenaccio, 37 years old, at Aziscoos dam Monday, brief news of which was published yesterday morning.

About 150 Italians are employed in the building of the dam and Sunday morning these three men had words, an old feud existing between them. It is alleged that on Monday morning Rinaldo came up behind Gatenaccio and hit him over the head with a club, and upon Gatenaccio's seizing a club to defend himself the older Pietrantono rushed up with a knife and struck him twice, pursuing him and, as he tripped and fell, plunging the knife into his abdomen. Two other fearful cuts were given, causing death in an hour.

The knife with which the stabbing was done, it is said, was made by the camp blacksmith out of a file for Pietrantono, after the Sunday row, but without knowledge of the use for which it was intended.

The murdered man has been buried at Wilson's Mills. The hearing was at Wilson's Mills, Tuesday, and at the coroner's inquest Wednesday morning the verdict was that "the man came to his death by reason of knife stabs inflicted by Giuseppe Pietrantono."

There were three witnesses to the murder.

CAPITOL LOCATION BILL

Hastell last night issued a proclamation, declaring the capitol location bill carried, and officially declared Oklahoma City to have received the greatest number of votes. The proclamation is based on the complete election returns furnished the governor by the state election board. The measure carried by approximately 33,000 majority.

EIGHTH CASE WAS REPORTED IN BOSTON YESTERDAY

BOSTON, June 17.—The city's health board was notified yesterday of the discovery of a case of smallpox on Warren avenue, South end, making a total number of eight cases reported during the past two months. The victim, a man 28 years old, was transferred to the health department's quarantine quarters at Galloup island, Boston harbor, and the other occupants of the house were quarantined until after they had been vaccinated and the house fumigated.

An investigation by the health authorities during the afternoon traced the disease to two men who were stricken with smallpox on Chandler street a week ago.

SIX MARRIAGES

IN SALOON OF THE STEAMSHIP SAXONIA

BOSTON, June 17.—Six young women became brides in the second cabin saloon of the steamship Saxonia soon after the vessel docked yesterday morning. Each had crossed the ocean to marry a sweetheart, who had preceded her to this country. "Book Purson" James A. Burns officiated at the marriages.

When the Saxonia arrived from Liverpool early in the morning, each young woman eagerly scanned the faces on the dock for a sight of the man she had crossed the ocean to wed. No less anxious were the young swains, who importuned the immigration officers to hasten that they might be free to marry and take their brides to their new homes.

The couples are: John F. Green of Worcester and Theresa Danbury of England, Frank Goswick of Boston and Sophia E. Solozik of Germany, Fred Eastwood of Worcester and Rachael Clark of England, William Fields of Waterville, Me., and Christina J. Black of Scotland, John Kenyon of New Bedford and Bertha Brixendale of England, John Sterling Dobson of Southbridge and Lydia J. Sparks of England.

A little before 7 the boys started ashore in a tender, twenty yards from shore, McDowell had a painting spell and fell overboard.

I START THE 1910 SUMMER SEASON

I invite you to examine my goods. You may not know it, and you may not believe it, but in my Lowell store alone I carry more woollens than most wholesale commission houses carry.

Amazing as the values may seem to the average man, more amazing is the fact that there are some men who will not investigate to the extent of looking in at the goods and prices.

I tell you in public announcements I have what I advertise. Come in and be the judge. Bring in your eyes to see, your hands to feel, your accumulated experience of past clothing purchases to guide you. See the crowds of intelligent men buying in rainy weather or fair weather and say to yourself, this man Mitchell must have something on all of them to get this business.

PANAMA EXPOSITION

New Orleans and San Francisco in the Race

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Unwilling to favor either of the rival Panama exposition cities, San Francisco or New Orleans, the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday decided to report favorably two resolutions authorizing the president to invite foreign nations to participate in each exposition to be held in the two cities whenever each city has raised $7,500,000 for the purpose of holding its exposition.

The senate committee has taken no action on similar measures and neither house is expected to act on them during the present session. The New Orleans contingent appeared jubilant over the committee's action. The San Francisco adherents admitted that the action was not what they wanted, but declared that they could raise any amount necessary to secure government endorsement of this fair.

The committee adopted the resolutions of both Representative Kahn of California and Representative Estep of Louisiana.

These were nearly identical and authorized the president to invite foreign countries to participate in the international exposition in 1915, the Estep-inal resolution being for New Orleans and the Kahn for San Francisco.

The original sum fixed as an actual bona fide subscription requirement in San Francisco and New Orleans was $5,000,000, and the committee yesterday raised that to $7,500,000 in each case.

While the committee was in executive session two camps of interested parties—one of Louisianians and the other Californians—were in the corridor on which the committee room is located.

The feeling in the committee was that it would be unfair to choose as between the two cities when each was ready to meet the other's claims.

The vote was unanimous. Representative Foster of Vermont, chairman of the committee, and other members announced that there was no idea of any action by congress at this session.

Prior to the executive meeting of the committee a representative of San Francisco argued that his city had raised more than $8,000,000 by subscription and wanted to raise the limit in the Kahn resolution to $7,500,000. A member of the committee hurried outside and talked with Representative Estep of Louisiana.

"Will New Orleans meet that amount?" he asked Estep.

"Yes," replied Estep. "We have already raised $5,000,000 and can easily obtain the rest."

Back went word in the committee, and following an animated discussion, the figure in the pending resolutions went up to $7,500,000.

The preliminary battle in committee was on a motion to postpone action on the Kahn resolution until next December. This motion was lost by a close vote.

Butler Ames of Massachusetts, a republican, voted with the democratic members in favor of New Orleans. Mr. Ames is a descendant of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, whose command of federal forces in New Orleans in the 60s furnished an exciting part of the Civil war.

The adoption of the Kahn resolution was then moved, but the motion was lost and the two resolutions were coupled and passed by the committee.

TRADE WITH FRANCE

WILL PROBABLY AMOUNT TO ABOUT $250,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Trade of the United States with France in the fiscal year ending with this month will probably aggregate about 250 million dollars, the largest total on record. Should the rate of commerce between the two republics shown by the ten months' figures at hand be maintained during May and June, imports will be 120 million and exports 120 million.

Comparative figures prepared by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor covering the past four years show that commerce with France follows the general trend of international trade during the past few years—a decline in 1908 from the high level reached in the preceding year, a partial recovery in 1909, followed by high record figures in 1910. Imports from France in 1907 were 128 million dollars in value; in 1908 they receded to 102 million; in 1909 stood at 108 million; and for ten months of 1910 amount to 118 million, indicating for the full fiscal year a total of 130 million. Exports to France in 1907 aggregated 113 million dollars; in 1908 slightly advanced to 118 million; in 1909 receded to 109 million, and in ten months of 1910, were 106 million. Indicating for the twelve months ending June 30 a total of 120 million dollars, both imports and exports being, in the present year, the highest on record.

Of the imports from France a very large proportion is composed of articles usually classed as luxuries. Of diamonds, for example, the imports in the ten months ending with April amounted to over 5 million dollars, or twice those of the preceding year; of the other precious stones, nearly 4 million dollars, against 2 million last year; of cotton laces, etc., about 5 million, or slightly less than those of last year; silk manufacturers, 13 1-2 million, against 12 1-2 million last year; of champagne, 53-4 million, against 41-2 million last year; distilled spirits, 21-4 million, against 11-2 million last year; of automobiles, 11-4 million dollars, against 11-2 million last year; and of kid and other leather gloves, 3 million dollars, compared with 21-2 million last year, in the corresponding period. Art works, of which the class "20 years old or over" was by the recent tariff transferred to the free list, show in the ten months' importations of nearly 9 million dollars, against a little over 1 million in the like period of 1909. Other important items include feathers and flowers, woolen dress goods, and olive oil; while among the class of articles for use in manufacturing, hides and skins, India rubber, raw silk, argols and glycerine range in value from 1 million to 4 million dollars each in the ten months.

Exports from the United States to France consist chiefly of manufacturers' materials and foodstuffs, though many classes of American manufactures find markets of greater or less extent in that country. Of raw cotton the exports in ten months ending with April amounted in 1910 to 65 million dollars against 47 1/2 million in each of the last two years; of pig copper, 10 1-3 million; of unmanufactured tobacco, 2 2-3 million; of lubricating oil, 2 million; of boards and timber, 1 million; and of fertilizers, a half million dollars. Exports of foodstuffs, to France, as to other countries, show decrease compared with earlier years. In the ten months of 1910 under review corn exports were about a quarter of a million dollars in value; wheat, three-quarters of a million; fruit and nuts, a half million; meat and dairy products, less than a half million; and cotton seed oil, a half million. Agricultural implements exported to France were valued at 2 2-3 million dollars; builders' hardware, a half million; typewriters, three-quarters of a million; metal-working machinery, over a half million; electrical machinery, one-third million; upper leather, 1 million; boots and shoes, over one-third million; and furniture, about 200 thousand dollars.

Merchandise from the United States forms a steadily increasing share of total imports of France; in the five years ending with 1884, 1-2 per cent; in the five years ending with 1904, 10 1/2 per cent; and in the five years ending with 1909, 11 per cent. Meantime the percentage of the imports into the United States from France, which was 11-2 per cent in the five years ending with 1884, had decreased to 8-3-4 per cent in the five years ending with 1904, and 8-1-2 per cent in the five years ending with 1909.

French colonies and possessions have not, thus far, proved large markets for products of the United States, and comparatively few of their products enter our own markets. Considering the ten months' figures now at hand, the imports from all French colonies amounted to 11-4 million, and exports to that territory 3 million dollars. The imports came chiefly from French Africa and French Oceania, while the exports went principally to French Africa, French Oceania, French Guiana, and the French West Indies. According to the official figures of France, her colonies have a total import trade of 220 million dollars, of which the share supplied by the United States is but 5 1-4 million dollars, or 2 1-2 per cent. Their exports were, in the latest available year, about 180 million dollars, of which less than $1,000,000 in value went to the United States.

CURTAILMENT QUESTION

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 17.—The most significant feature of the annual session of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers association which met here yesterday was the failure of the mill men to take any official action on the matter of curtailment as had been advertised. It is said, officially, however, that probably all of the members have agreed to a complete curtailment in August to continue until the market advances. The association adopted resolutions condemning the rules of the New York Exchange which encourage speculation and manipulation and voted to admit Virginia mills to the organization.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED

NEW YORK, June 17.—It was reported last night that the federal grand jury which has been investigating the operations of the bull movement in May cotton, has returned indictments against several prominent brokers. Warrants, it is expected, will be issued tomorrow. No official confirmation of the report could be obtained.

RIKER-JAYNES WEEKLY BULLETIN

We Make It Right

In an organization like the Riker-Jaynes organization, employing thousands of people, it is inevitable that now and then something occurs of a nature disagreeable or unsatisfactory to our customers. What we wish to emphasize is the fact that we stand ready at all times to correct errors of this kind, to assure our patrons that any act of discourtesy on the part of an employe, any refusal to make a wrong thing right, is not endorsed by the management of this institution.

We proclaim this principle, not with any degree of uncertainty, with no desire to impress the reader with the idea that we are not in business for business purposes, but rather that we consider this a business principle, which, if honestly carried out, will bring to our doors that endless throng of satisfied customers which is the main object of every commercial undertaking. This is why we ask you to co-operate with us in making our institution your institution, in making our interests your interests, and in thus aiding us to weed out whatever evils exist in our organization.

Our business will never be so large or so important that we will fail to listen to the demands of our customers.

17TH OF JUNE

Bunker Hill Day Observed in Charlestown

BOSTON, June 17.—Lessened in ardor and enthusiasm by the prohibition of noisemaking with firecrackers and fire crackers, and dampened by a drizzling rain, the celebration of the 135th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill in Charlestown today was not so elaborate as those of recent years. The day was ushered in by several bonfires shortly after midnight and at sunrise the double star, handles, in the navy yard, boomed a salute. In the forenoon the veteran firemen paraded through the streets and over Bunker Hill and in the day held a muster on the Sullivan square playground. "Open house" prevailed through the district during the day.

Historical societies observed the day by doing honor to the memories of the past. Bunker Hill monument was decorated with the stars and stripes flying from its topmost windows. The celebration came to a close with band concerts and fireworks in the evening.

According to a contract the Wrights have entered into with local merchants, they are to give one flight each day. They are to receive $5000 for the flights.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

EDINBURGH, Scotland, June 17.—The non-sectarian character of the world's missionary conference was emphasized today by the reading of a letter from Monsignor Ronchetti, Catholic bishop of Cremona, Italy. The communication inviting the bishop to contribute a message to the conference explained that the gathering was merely a "conference on behalf of all Christians of every name, better understanding each other and better combine to make Christ and his church known to all men." It was pointed out that the conference would not pass resolutions or take any definite action. It would not compromise convictions, nor sacrifice principles.

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

BOSTON, June 17.—With one match still to be played in the fourth round to fill up the four players in the semi-finals the Massachusetts singles tennis championship at Longwood was postponed today on account of rain.

WOMEN WORKERS CONVENTION
GLOUCESTER, June 17.—Outdoor recreations of the 40 members of the National League of Women Workers who are holding their annual convention in this city was postponed today by the presence of a heavy rainstorm, but clad in rubber coats many of the delegates visited historical places of interest during the forenoon.

Shortly after noon the delegates left this city for Haverport to convene at the Rockport lodge which contains a summer home for the Massachusetts division of the women workers association. The delegates will return here tonight and assemble at their headquarters to hold the first business meeting of the convention.

NEGOTIATIONS FAILED

For Settlement of Trouble Between Peru and Ecuador

LIMA, Peru, June 17.—It was rumored today that the attempted mediation between Peru and Ecuador had failed, owing to the conditions imposed by Ecuador, imposed as a basis for the peace negotiations.

Both countries began some days ago the withdrawal from the frontiers of the troops which had been massed when an outbreak of hostilities was believed to be imminent. The withdrawal was in accordance with the insistence of the mediating powers when the United States, Brazil and Argentina undertook to act jointly in arbitrating the boundary dispute between the two republics which it seemed obvious would be otherwise settled only by war. Nevertheless vague reports that Ecuador had qualified its consent to mediation have been circulated here until now they appear to be gaining credence.

JUSTICE MOODY

Given Five Months In Which to Retire

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The administration does not expect any immediate word from Justice Moody of the supreme court, who in bills pending in congress is given five months in which he may retire. That limit of time was made in the hope and possibility that the justice would not find it necessary to give up, but would recover sufficiently to return to duty by the beginning of the next term of court. The realization of the fact that congress has made provision for him, it is hoped, might assist him in getting better. Even if he did not improve the justice would have the satisfaction of knowing that he would be provided for in his continued ill health.

Such being the case, the president, it was said, had not the remotest idea of considering the question of a successor to Mr. Moody during the present session of the senate. Should Justice Moody retire before congress reassembles the president will not fill the vacancy, but will wait until that body reconvenes. The president has announced heretofore that he never would appoint anyone to a place on the supreme bench during a recess of congress.

The Standard Oil and the American Tobacco cases are assigned for rehearing early in November. The court wants them argued before a full bench and it was said today there would be no difficulty in securing a postponement.

ROYAL HORSE SHOW

LONDON, June 17.—Interest in high class horsemanship and its accompaniment shifted today from Olympia to Richmond with the opening of the Richmond royal horse show.

Judge William H. Moore and Alfred G. Vanderbilt, the New Yorkers, divided honors in the coaching marathon. The former captured the C. W. Watson cup, offered for the best private coach while Mr. Vanderbilt was awarded the Tattersall cup for the most meritorious work. There were ten competitors.

DR. BENTON DECLINES

BOSTON, June 17.—The trustees and alumni of Boston university were considerably disappointed today upon learning that Dr. Guy Potter Benton of Miami university had declined to become president of the local institution at least for a year. In a despatch received today Dr. Benton stated that he must stay in Miami for another year but that the board of that institution had given him the privilege of a year in which to investigate. It is expected that Dr. William D. Huntington, the present head of the Boston university, will be asked to remain in office for the year notwithstanding the fact that his resignation has been accepted.

THE YALE OARSMEN

Afterwards the freshman and varsity eights went down to the navy yard. On the way down the two boats had a short race where the varsity won by a brief margin. They came back at a slow stroke. The fours raced half a mile up stream, the varsity four leading at the finish with the freshmen second and the second varsity four bringing up the rear. Patterson stroked the varsity four and Low the second boat.

Will be Well Guarded in New York Tomorrow

NEW YORK, June 17.—Theodore Roosevelt will be guarded through the celebration of his homecoming tomorrow as carefully as if he were still in the White House. From the time Roosevelt leaves the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria at quarantine he will be guarded moment by moment by the keenest detectives on the force. Inspector Russell Wood of the detective bureau will take personal charge of his men. Police Commissioner Baker today assigned sixteen inspectors, 45 captains, 170 sergeants, 4100 patrolmen and 20 surgeons to duty for the land parade. Another force in police boats will watch the water parade.

The chief work of the police will be to keep the crowds in order, but they will also look to the protection of all out of town visitors. Four hundred detectives began to scour the city last night for every crook they could recognize. All those gathered in will be under lock and key until the celebration is over. To look after those who have stepped through the dragnet other hundreds of detectives will be constantly circulating through the files on the sidewalk during the parade.

The national volunteer emergency service of which General E. S. Davis is at the head will look after hospital arrangements. If the day is not the scores of surgeons and nurses are sure to have their hands full caring for cases of heat prostrations. There will be ten land stations along the line of march from the Battery to Central park and Fifth avenue and a hospital boat with a station off Staten island will follow the river parade. Hospital tents and ambulances will dot the streets wherever the press is thickest.

All the big hotels report big advance reservations of rooms for tonight and tomorrow but it is thought that they will easily be able to care for all their guests as the bulk of the visiting crowds will naturally be recruited from nearby towns.

Roosevelt's children now in this country and his relatives who are going to meet him will sacrifice several hours of sleep for the sake of being the first to greet the wayfarer. The revenue cutter Manhattan will take them to quarantine and the hour not yet determined, depends on the time when the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria enters the harbor. In all probability they must rise before dawn.

Rear Admiral Lutz, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard will command the warships detailed to the naval parade. They will lead the line with the South Carolina in advance followed by five torpedo-boat destroyers, four revenue cutters and four police boats. Then will come in twelve divisions the fleet of chartered steamers reserved by clubs from all over the country and the excursion steamers plying for chance fares.

ROOSEVELT NEARING HOME

ON BOARD THE KAISERIN AUGUSTE VICTORIA

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, via Marconi wireless, June 17. This steamer which is carrying as a passenger former Pres. Roosevelt, homeward bound after a year from home, was 433 miles east of Ambrose channel lightship at 6 o'clock this morning.

If the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria maintains the speed indicated in the above dispatch she should be off Sandy Hook at 7 o'clock tomorrow. However, if the prevailing fog continues along the Long Island coast the steamer will probably be somewhat delayed.

ROUNDUP OF CROOKS

NEW YORK, June 17.—In the general roundup of crooks for the protection of the crowds present in the city detectives corralled sixty-seven in the borough of Manhattan. These were all taken to headquarters during the night and morning.

Police Commissioner Baker had a conference with the police magistrates and it was agreed that all known pickpockets and other pickpockets taken before the magistrates will upon proper identification be held as suspected persons for 48 hours.

The detectives say that pickpockets and other professional crooks got the tip that there was to be a general roundup and that many of them have gone over to New Jersey temporarily or have remained under cover.

BATTLESHIP ARRIVES

NEW YORK, June 17.—The battleship South Carolina, which will head the line of warships in tomorrow's Roosevelt celebration naval parade arrived off the Highlands from Newport News this morning. The torpedo boat destroyers Smith, Flusser, Lamson, Reid and Preston which will follow the South Carolina in the marine procession also came in from Newport and anchored in Sandy Hook bay.

STRIKE STILL ON

NEW YORK, June 17.—The deadlock in the Yonkers trolley strike situation was unbroken today. No attempt was made to operate the cars of the system which have been tied up since Wednesday. Receiver Leslie Sutherland is understood to take the position that the company was paying all that it could afford to and that he would rather keep the company's cars locked up in the barns than operate them under the conditions that the men are said to have laid down. There have been no disturbances.

MONSTER WELCOME

NEW YORK, June 17.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is today nearing New York where a welcoming demonstration awaits him tomorrow on his return from foreign lands. A wireless despatch from the steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with Col. Roosevelt and his family aboard states that the vessel was 433 miles east of Ambrose channel lightship at 3 a. m. which under ordinary conditions would bring the steamer off Sandy Hook at 7 a. m. tomorrow. Weather conditions for the welcoming seemed dubious indeed this morning. A milky fog which fairly screened the bay and a senseless drizzle made New York a sodden spot today, but the weather men held a little prospect of clearing. Fog at sea might delay the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria but as the program does not call for the steamship to be in quarantine

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

NEW YORK, June 17.—George Thomas, 23, of Athol, Mass.; Harry Daly and Joseph Higginson, both of this city, were arraigned in Yorkville police court today charged with burglary. Thomas and Daly confessed that they entered and robbed the room of Sidney McCall, a son of the late John C. McCall, at Yale six months ago. They exonerated Higginson, saying he was an acquaintance who happened to be with them when they were arrested. Detective Cray said he had information that Higginson and Daly were brothers and that neither gave his right name. The three young men were held for examination.

Cray and his partners, Dowling and Cain, saw Daly, Higginson and Thomas entering a pawnshop in Eighth avenue yesterday and arrested them after they had pawned a stickpin. Pawn tickets and other stickpins were found on Higginson and Daly which were identified by young McCall as stolen from his room.

DIVERS SEARCH FOR BODY

COMO, Italy, June 17.—Throughout the day divers roamed about the bottom of lake Como in the vicinity where the body of Mrs. Mary Scott Charlton was found, but they failed to discover the body of the husband, Porter Charlton, whom many believe to have been murdered by the slayer of his wife, and brought up nothing from the water's depths that shed any light on the mystery. The search of the lake is being made by the Italian government at the request of American Ambassador Leishman and American Consul Caughy at Milan. On the other hand the police have doubled their efforts towards the collection of evidence that the young bank clerk is still alive.

Constantine Ispoloff, the casual acquaintance of the Charltons and who is reputed to be in the secret service of the Russian government, remains in custody but has been given a respite by the examining judge. So far as the procurator and the detectives have made known he has been of no assistance to the investigators except as he has seemingly eliminated himself as an important figure in the mystery.

AT STATE FARM

Great Building Operations Under Way

MIDDLEBORO, June 17.—Extensive building operations are under way at the Bridgewater state farm, the recent appropriation of $80,000, which the state legislature made, being put into concrete buildings. The prisoners, under direction of A. J. Maynard of the construction department, have just started a concrete "strong building" for the more violent insane cases. This building is being built to the westward of the present group, and is the first of a series of buildings which will probably be needed for the care and housing of insane criminals who are sentenced to the state farm.

This building is being located on the site of two courtyards, surrounded by an 18 foot stone wall and will be two stories high. It is the first of any of the state farm buildings to be built on posts, there being a clearance of 10 feet between the ground and the lower floor of the building. This is done to preserve the ground from the inmates to amuse themselves in, and allows a fairly clear view of the entire yard.

The posts are of heavy concrete. The building will be 167 by 40 and two stories high. It will have 56 strongly built cells beside two ward rooms, and will be connected with the other buildings of the insane group by a concrete subway.

At the state farm an increase of about 30 insane patients annually is shown by the books, and to provide for the future anticipated increase of the milder cases, another building will be erected as soon as this present structure is completed. It will be 342 by 40, and three stories high, of concrete construction. There will be 98 cells, and nine ward rooms, in which large numbers of the mildly affected cases can be cared for. This building will also provide quarters for a hospital room, a dining room and kitchen.

Later, when work is not so rushed, a 17 acre plot will be enclosed by a 20 foot concrete wall, for insane patients, and this ground will be devoted to little garden plots for them to care for. Dr. Alfred Elliott, the medical director, believes in diversion of their minds by gardening from their own troubles is highly beneficial.

The new ward prison building is nearing completion, and will soon be occupied. It is 108 by 46, and three stories high. This was begun last fall, and the work continued with little interruption throughout the winter, despite storms and frosts. In this building the "trusties" of the criminal department will be quartered. Instead of being confined in separate cells, as at present, those who have proven that they can be trusted will be kept in wards of about 15 men. They will be allowed to stay up later at night than the ones occupying cells, making the prisoners' day longer and the period of watchfulness of the night officers in this particular building shorter.

Another new concrete structure which will be begun at once is the new guard room, where Master J. Arthur Taylor will have offices, and where accommodations will be made for a guard room on the prison side. There will also be a room provided for the prison library, which is quite large and needs better quarters. There will be coat rooms for the officers and also a reception room, in which visitors may see the prisoners upon whom they desire to call. This structure will be two stories high.

Other new buildings which will soon be erected are a storehouse in the present prison courtyard, and a new storage warehouse at Tift station, where the institution's freight will be received. Some new apparatus for the stone crusher plant is also being considered, and electrical appliances to operate it will probably be installed.

STATUE OF LEE
MONTPELIER, Vermont, June 17.—Resolutions condemning the action of the state of Virginia in placing the statue of General Robert E. Lee in Statuary Hall, Washington, were adopted yesterday by the Vermont department, Grand Army of the Republic assembled Monday 4th annual convention. The resolutions declared that Virginia had aggravated the insult to the veteran soldiers by erecting a statue in a Confederate uniform and stated that had a style of uniform in vogue prior to the civil war been used the matter would find less opposition.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME SOCIETY HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

The St. Peter's Holy Name society held its regular monthly meeting last evening and despite the adverse weather conditions it was well attended. President Richard Lyons presided and minor routine business was disposed of. The quarterly communion comes on Sunday, July 10, and it is hoped that the members will turn out in large numbers. After an animated discussion it was voted to hold the usual communion breakfast. The committee in charge of this will be William F. Boyle, chairman; Joseph McVey, Nicholas Kennedy, Patrick H. Corey, John J. Quinn, John J. Devlin, John J. Watson, John Hynes, Alfred McBride and Edward Farrell. The president named the visiting committee as follows: John J. Watson, John Hynes, James Welch, William Fitzgerald, Jr., and Martin Haloran. Rev. John F. Burns, spiritual director, made an eloquent address to the members, urging them to exhibit an active interest in the society and to return their postal cards in due season so that proper arrangements can be made for the communion breakfast.

Remarks were also made by Pres. Lyons, Secretary Ward, M. H. McDonough and others, all urging a large attendance of members. Pres. Lyons is very desirous of having every member attend and efforts will be made with that end in view. The literary committee with Patrick H. Corey as chairman promises a program of rare excellence at the communion breakfast, and hence it promises to be an interesting event.

REP. HUMPHREYS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Representative Humphreys of Washington, introducer of the ship subsidy bill, spoke in the house yesterday upon various forms of combinations among foreign steamship lines, touching American ports and referring to discriminatory rates charged for sending American products abroad. In his speech he charged that certain foreign lines were represented in Washington by a member of the staff of the Associated Press. In that connection, the following was issued by the Associated Press:

"It having come to the knowledge of the executive officers of the Associated Press, that an employee in the Washington office has been engaged under salary by two steamship lines to furnish them with certain classes of information, an investigation has been made. It has been disclosed that while such employment did not at any time involve any act on the part of the employee which could in any way affect the integrity of the service nor even interfere with his legitimate and proper work for the Associated Press, nevertheless such employment is so subject to misconception as to seriously impair his usefulness, and his relation to the Associated Press has in consequence ceased by the acceptance of his resignation.

"The termination of his long, useful and honorable service does not justify any assumption that he has been consciously guilty of any misconduct, nor that in that work that he performed for that steamship company he has done anything which was not connected with the Associated Press might not have done with perfect propriety."
This is what Mr. Humphrey said on this subject.

"The hired representative of Herr Ballu and his interests is here in Washington today on the staff of the Associated Press, the greatest news gathering agency in the world. This gentleman's name is Mr. Jerome J. Wilber, and when you remember how close the German merchant marine is to the German navy, it is at least suggestive that this representative of this giant foreign steamship trust should also be the representative of the Associated Press signed to our state, and our navy department.
"When he was on the witness stand the other day he refused to testify as to the amount of money that he was paid for his services.
"The next day after that Mr. Boas of New York, American general manager of the Hamburg-American Packet Co., was upon the witness stand and he testified that Wilber's compensation was $3000 a year. What does he do? What are the services that he renders his company?"

Mr. Humphrey's statements had reference to testimony given before the house committee which has been instructing the alleged existence of a lobby in opposition to the ship subsidy project.

STOPS ITCHING AT ONCE

Quite recently a chemist formulated a compound which possesses such soothing and curative properties that, when applied, it stops the itching of eczema and similar diseases immediately. Sufferers who use it are amazed at the rapidity of the relief which follows its use. The skin heals in an astonishingly short time, and all traces of the disease are eradicated. The name of this new remedy is Cadum, and it is sold by all druggists for 10c. and 25c. a box. It is also remarkably effective when used for acne, herpes, pimples, blackheads, psoriasis, itching piles, tetter, salt rheum, and skin diseases generally. A 10c box will verify all these statements.

FOREIGN TRADE

SMALLER IMPORTS DURING THE MONTH OF MAY

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Foreign trade during the month of May shows smaller imports than in any month since August of last year and larger exports than in May of any year, with the single exception of 1907. The total imports for the month, as shown by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, were $119,829,698, against $133,922,369 in April and $162,999,435 in March of the present year. The exports of the month were $131,145,428, against $123,322,778 in May, 1909, $113,610,378 in May, 1908, and $134,769,568 in May, 1907, the single year, which shows a higher record of May exports than the one just announced. The excess of exports over imports for the month of May, 1910, is $11,315,829, against $7,232,213 in May of last year. The total imports for the 11 months ending with May, 1910, were $1,438,169,502, and the total exports, $1,617,150,178, making the excess of exports over imports for the 11 months period $178,980,676. The exports for the 11 months ending with May, 1910, exceed those of the corresponding months of last year by $71,567,663.

Franklin Nourse of this city, formerly the agent of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., has been elected a director of that corporation. Mr. Nourse retired from the position of agent on the first of May.

6 O'CLOCK GOVERNOR DRAPER

Sends Pretty Sharp Letter to Mayor Fitzgerald

BOSTON, June 17.—Gov. Draper, in an open letter to Mayor Fitzgerald, made public just before the close of business last evening, refuses to state that he will not reappoint Frank A. Foxcroft to the civil service board, as demanded in the letter to the governor by the mayor. He promises, however, to take the matter under advisement.

Gov. Draper goes into the history of the whole matter of the Boston charter, the causes leading up to its adoption and the letter received from Jeremiah J. McCarthy recently about the latter's rejection as fire commissioner. He also chides Mayor Fitzgerald for the coincidence of the two epistles and declares that they were evidently written, judging from the fact that the governor saw both of them in the newspapers before he received them in the mail, for whatever political effect they might have.

The governor, in his letter, reminds the mayor that he favored the adoption of the Boston charter amendments providing for the submission of the appointments of the heads of certain departments in the civil service commission. After discussing the provisions of that feature of the charter, he continues:

Rejection of Appointments

"In the last election, after a very strenuous campaign, you were elected mayor of Boston by a small plurality, and you have sent various communications to the civil service commission, some of which they have certified, and others they have refused to certify. There have been 57 appointments so referred by you, 35 of which have been certified, 13 of which were not certified, and eight of which are still pending.

"Because of the fact that you are refusing to certify some of your nominations you have written me the letter from which I have largely quoted at the beginning of this letter, and you urge upon me the appointment of a Boston citizen in the place of Mr. Foxcroft, stating that you are entirely dissatisfied with the action of the commission, and think that by the appointment of a resident of Boston the conditions might be made different.

"At substantially the same time that I received your letter I have received petitions from two citizens of Boston requesting me to give hearings for the removal of the civil service commissioners by the governor and council, because of their action in refusing to certify the nominations of ex-Mayor George A. Hibbard as collector of the city of Boston, and of Mr. Jeremiah J. McCarthy to be fire commissioner of Boston.

Discusses Pelletier

"You refer to the appointment of a Boston man like Mr. Pelletier. I desire to call to your attention the fact that when Mr. Pelletier's commission expired I reappointed him as a member of the civil service commission, although he was a democrat. Later on he became a candidate for the office of district attorney of Suffolk county, and on Oct. 12, 1909, he resigned his commission. Upon resigning I appointed Mr. Elmer L. Curtis, a member of the legislature, as a member of the commission in his place.

"In regard to the membership of the commission, I would say that Mr. Warren, the chairman, is a democrat who sleeps in Dedham and does business in Boston. Mr. Foxcroft, the member whom you think should not be reappointed, sleeps in Cambridge and does business in Boston, and Mr. Curtis, the third member, sleeps in Brighton and attends to his profession in Boston. So that all three of these men, while they are not actually residents of the city, are perfectly familiar with Boston and its needs.

"I further desire to call your attention to the fact that the civil service commission is a state commission and not a city commission. The work that the members have to do concerning the city of Boston is very small. They are obliged to certify or refuse to certify some 120 nominations, of which 35 have already been certified, which you have the power to submit to them as mayor of Boston.

Boston Work Nearly Done

"As you have been elected mayor for four years, they will have to spend almost none of their time attending to duties required under the city charter of Boston; and, assuming that the men you nominate and they certify will serve for any reasonable length of time within a very few months they will have substantially nothing to do under this provision in the Boston charter until your successor is elected.

"No substantial criticism has ever been made of this commission up to the immediate present, that it has not honestly and ably performed its duties. You now ask me to refuse to reappoint one of the members and appoint another man in his place, because the commission does not agree with you as to the fitness of some appointments which you have made.

"As a rule, I do not believe it is a wise policy to refuse to reappoint a man who is able and conscientious and has done his work well because some one prominent man in public office feels aggrieved at some action that he may have taken.

"You are, however, holding a very high and important position, and I shall give your request the consideration which I think it deserves."

MANNING REUNION

THE HISTORIC MANNING MANSE

Held at the Historic Manse at Billerica Today

The annual reunion of the members of the Manning association is being held today at the Manning Manse, in North Billerica. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was rather small today, there being but about 55 present. Nevertheless the arrangements which had been made were carried out and the affair proved to be an enjoyable one.

Upon arriving at North Billerica the guests were conveyed to the old Manse, about a mile distant, by carriage where old acquaintances were renewed among those who had attended the previous reunions. There were several who were present at the Manse for the first time today but it was not long before they were introduced to the other members and felt very much at home.

During the morning the visitors spent the time in inspecting the house, looking at the various relics and gifts, some of which have been in the house for a great many years while others have been recently presented to the association.

Shortly after noon dinner was served on the spacious lawn. Even though the rain was descending heavily during the course of the meal the guests were sheltered by a large canopy and the moisture did not seem to dampen their ardor in the least.

At the conclusion of the dinner a business meeting was held, after which speeches and an entertainment program were in order.

One of the features of the reunion was the large number of young people who were present which indicated that they are taking an active interest in the annual affair.

The business meeting proved to be an important one, the feature of which was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

President, Prentice C. Manning, Portland, Me.; vice president, Earl C. Manning, Mattapan, Mass.; secretary and treasurer, Warren H. Manning of Brookline, Mass.; historian, William H. Manning, West Somerville, Mass.; chairman of executive committee, Edward W. Walker, Brookline, Mass.; entertainment committee, chairman, Mrs. Edward W. Walker, Brookline, Mass.; reception committee, chairman, Elizabeth Houghton, Cambridge; refreshment committee, Mrs. Eva B. Dutton, West Somerville, Mass.

Present at the reunion were descendants of the Manning family, who reside in Florida, Georgia, North Dakota, Canada, New York, New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts.

Those who attended the reunion today and are members of the Manning association are the descendants of Samuel Manning, who occupied the Manse. The Manse was erected at Billerica in 1699 by Samuel Manning, grandson of William of Cambridge, and occupied by his descendants for over 200 years and is now owned by the Manning association, incorporated by the Massachusetts legislature in 1901.

It has peculiar interest for every living member of the family, for the reason that they all are direct descendants of Samuel as he had neither brother nor male who lived to marry, so that it is indeed an ancestral home.

Erected as it was in the time of the Indian outbreaks and massacres it was for a time one of the officially appointed "Garrison Houses" in which an infinite number of families could take refuge in time of danger. There were times when it was filled with frightened fugitives and armed men, watching for the coming of the dreaded red foe.

Later on in history it became known as the Manning Tavern and at one time during the Revolution a detachment of patriot troops, including a general and his staff, stopped there. Here, too, was located a petty house where saltwater was made for use as one of the component parts of gunpowder to be used by the patriots.

The house stands today as one of the very few old landmarks that remain to tell of the earlier days so full of tradition and history that are dear to the descendants. It is in a fine state of preservation and as nearly as possible in its original shape. With its numerous fireplaces and swinging cranes, the old Dutch ovens, the quaint little studied rooms with their beamed ceilings, heavy oak doors, the winding stairway, the wooden latches with the oldtime latch strings, it is indeed a possession to be coveted.

Standing alone with a fringe of green woods all about it in the shade of many trees, it commands attention and respect. The old Manse is filled with a large collection of objects of interest to every member of the family, and includes antique furniture, household articles, documents, deeds, letters, family paintings, spinning wheels, carpet looms, books, trunks, clothing, campers, lanterns, guns, collection of water plants, mugs, spoons, old china, tavern register, warming pans, old fashioned spit roasters and backers, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

All of the above mentioned articles have been donated by members of the family, and the collection is being added to constantly.

$100,000 A YEAR

Position Offered to Ex-

Pres. Roosevelt

NEW YORK, June 17.—C. W. Post, of Battle Creek, Mich., offered ex-President Roosevelt $100,000 yesterday for the purpose of accepting the presidency of the National Trades and Workers' association for a year. The offer was sent to Mr. Roosevelt's home in Oyster Bay.

"I make the offer on my own responsibility," said Mr. Post at the Hotel Seville last night. "The association, which is a body of craftsmen organized for fraternal and benevolent purposes, and which believes in mediation and public opinion to settle strikes and not in violence, wired me from Michigan to offer Roosevelt the presidency. They made no monetary offer. I made it myself. The association has no such money to give.

"Roosevelt as president of the association, would attract half of the members of the American Federation of Labor, which would desert that organization, which has been so arrogant and high-handed in recent years.

Mr. Post is from Battle Creek, Michigan. He has been fighting the American Federation of Labor for years.

KENTUCKY'S SANE FOURTH
FRANKFORT, Ky., June 17.—In adding an effort to stop the slaughter of human beings and the destruction of property on the Fourth of July, Governor Wilson has issued a proclamation calling on the people of Kentucky to celebrate in a more fitting and sane manner. He calls attention to the inappropriateness of the present manner of celebrating the day, and says in part:

"During the last five National holidays 115 persons were killed and 21,520 were injured through premature explosions and other accidents in celebrating the Fourth of July. I wish to appeal to our people to change the noisy, dangerous method of celebrating our National holiday."

NEW CABINET POSITION
WASHINGTON, June 17.—The House committee on labor today decided to report favorably a bill creating a department of labor with a seat in the president's cabinet.

OYSTER BILL REPORTED
WASHINGTON, June 17.—The bill requiring the branding of hermetically sealed oyster cans with the net weight of the oyster meat in those receptacles was ordered favorably reported by the House committee on interstate commerce today. The bill is to take effect January 1, 1912.

CREWS AT PRACTICE
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 17.—Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania went over the full four mile course this forenoon while Syracuse covered part of it and Wisconsin took only practice.

Coach Courtney of Cornell said his crew had no four mile time trial and would have none until next week.

THE BIG HANDICAP

Slated for Sheephead
Bay Today

NEW YORK, June 17.—Although promise of fair weather was lacking, everything else pointed to a brilliant contest at Sheephead Bay this afternoon when the turf classic of the year, the Suburban handicap, is run over the historic course.

Despite the morning inclemency and the present somewhat depressed state of turf affairs in the metropolitan territory, the trend of travel was strongly trackwards for many hours before the afternoon's racing started. Seven high class horses were named to start in the big event. What with James R. Keene's stars, Balbot and Maskette, Hildreth's speedy King James, the well thought of Fashion Plate, the lightweight Prince Imperial and the good mudder Olambula, the race enthusiasts felt assured of a good run for their money and high honors attached to the winning of a Suburban. The withdrawal of Fitzhbert was the one disappointment. Best favored at post time it was thought would be the Keene entry with King James well up in the odds and a strong backing for others in the list such as Olambula and Fashion Plate.

No horse indeed was regarded as out of the running, and Joe Madden and Prince Imperial had their confident supporters.

The horses, weights, jockeys, owners and probable odds follow:

x—King James, 131, Dugan, S. C. Hildreth, 5 to 2.
y—Joe Madden, 117, Shilling, S. C. Hildreth, 6 to 2.
z—Ballot, 129, Butwell, James R. Keene, even.
a—Maskette, 123, Powers, James R. Keene, even.
b—Fashion Plate, 118, Glass, Oneck Stables, 10 to 1.
c—Olambula, 115, Creevy, R. Y. Wilson, 15 to 1.

Prince Imperial, 110, Garner, Woodhaven Stables, 6 to 1.
x—Coupled as the Hildreth entry.
y—Coupled as the Keene entry.

Sixty private detectives were engaged by the Coney Island Jockey club today and filed their credentials with the county clerk in Brooklyn. They have been instructed by the officers of the Jockey club to prevent all bookmaking operations at the track. This action is supposed to have been inspired by the recent action of the state legislature in enacting a law making owners of race tracks directors of public nuisances and responsible for compelling which takes place on their grounds.

STATEHOOD BILL

Taken Up by President
William Taft

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Taft today took up the task of securing statehood for New Mexico and Arizona which the leaders of congress have transferred entirely to his shoulders. He sent for several house leaders, including Rep. Hamilton, chairman of the committee on territories. When Mr. Hamilton on the White House it was with the promise that he would do all he could to have the house accept the senate statehood bill without conference.

Strong pressure will be brought to bear to this end. In return for this the president is said to be in a position to promise that the senate will accept the house postal savings bill.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, saw the president today and discussed pending labor legislation with him, particularly the employers liability bill, and the bill for the creation of a separate department of labor.

RUSSELL CASE

QUESTION OF THE APPEAL WAS ARGUED TODAY

BOSTON, June 17.—The question of the appeal in the celebrated Russell case shall be decided by the jury or by a single judge in the supreme judicial court was argued today before Justice Rugg by counsel for the Dakota claimant and the Russell estate. Attorney J. Sheldon for "Dakota Dan" said that the question should be decided by a jury, while Robert W. Mason, counsel for William C. Russell, said that a jury trial would cause unnecessary and unwarranted delay and expense. Justice Rugg took the matter under advisement.

GIRL IS DEAD

OVERSTUDY IS BLAMED FOR HER
PASSING AWAY

NEW YORK, June 17.—Ida Sternfeld, a 16-year-old girl, died in the Eastern District hospital in Williamsburgh yesterday from spinal meningitis. The girl with her parents came from Brazil four years ago. Her ambition was to become a public school teacher and when she became a pupil of school No. 31 she devoted all of her time to her studies.

Recently her health began to fail and it was evident that hard study was the cause of her illness. On Tuesday she complained of headaches and soon went into a state of coma.

Ambulance Surgeon Cohen was summoned from the hospital and he did all he could to revive the girl, but to no avail. He wanted to take the child to the hospital but her parents refused.

Yesterday when he was again called he placed the child in the ambulance and took her to the hospital. She died without regaining consciousness.

The surgeon declared death was brought on by overstudy.

KNOX FOR GOVERNOR
WASHINGTON, June 17.—When Secretary Knox's attention was called to the published report that he would probably be nominated by the republican convention for governor of Pennsylvania, he said that he had not seen or talked with any one on this subject and knew nothing of it. In view of that fact he thought it was entirely improper to discuss the matter at this time.

DIAMOND NOTES

Worcester today.

Double-header and a band concert tomorrow. First game at 2 sharp.

As long as they fail to hit when men are on bases, they'll find it extremely difficult to win games.

Osborne and Connolly, between them, walked six men; otherwise the score would have been different.

My old friend Billy Peters of the Lawrence Eagle once told me confidentially that umpires are born and not made. Last evening as I was walking along Central street near Jackson, a voice rang out from within the circle of men and women who surrounded the Salvation Army, crying: "Brother, you must be born again." And I hastened back to find Connolly and take him forth to hear the prophetic words.

Pitcher Pungley of Somersworth, N. H., is expected here tomorrow.

Pat Sullivan had 18 putouts at first base yesterday, the season's record.

Walter Foye has joined the New London team in the Connecticut Trolley league. Jack Burns, former second baseman of the Lowell team, is manager and captain of the New London team.

Routes put up one hand for the ball yesterday and the fans got after him but the ball was coming in such a manner that he couldn't get the other hand to it.

Pitcher Osborne is another six-footer. Thus far Lowell's six-footers haven't amounted to much. But Osborne looks good.

Once more the lid is off to Butler, the Fall River third baseman. Little Jawn picked out a corner in Butler.

WALTER DOHERTY

WAS PRESENTED RING BY HIS FRIENDS LAST EVENING

An enjoyable surprise party was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Doherty, 1016 Cornhill street, in honor of her son Walter. About fifty young friends assembled at the home and all assisted in making the affair a pleasant one. During the course of the evening's festivities Master Edward Kenney delivered an excellent speech and presented Master Doherty a beautiful ring. Although taken completely by surprise the recipient responded and expressed his gratitude in a most fitting manner. An entertaining musical program was given, which included: piano selections, Misses Jennie Nelson and Josie Doherty; songs, Masters Frank and Andrew Kenney, and others. Refreshments were served.

TO CONSIDER BRIBERY CHARGES

WASHINGTON, June 17.—A meeting of the senate committee on privileges and elections has been called for tomorrow to consider bribery charges in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois. It is expected a resolution will be reported providing an investigation.

TO FIGHT AT GOLDFIELD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Tex Rickard announced today to the Associated Press on receipt of a telegram from Morris Sullivan of Goldfield, Nevada, that the Jeffries-Johnson fight would be held there July 4. Sullivan guaranteed $120,000 to the promoters.

BOMB WAS EXPLODED

WARSAW, Russian Poland, June 17.—A bomb was exploded with fatal results in a squad of gendarmes at the Gurdzisk station on the Vienna railroad thirty miles from here today.

One of the gendarmes was killed outright, four received mortal wounds and their chief was slightly injured. The bomb thrower was arrested.

An attempt is made by the authorities to connect today's violence with that at Radom when Colonel Wonszatski of the gendarmes was shot and killed by a policeman. On that occasion the assassin and an accomplice committed suicide on the spot.

MOTOR CAR RACES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 17.—With George Robertson, Ray Harroun, Joo Dawson and other noted drivers participating, Memphis had its first taste today of motor car racing under direction of the American Automobile association. Seven events, ranging in distance from five to fifty miles were scheduled.

The racing was over the mile dirt track, the old Montgomery course, famous in the day of horse-racing in Tennessee.

PROBABLY SUICIDE

Believed That Wellesley Girl Ended Her Life

BOSTON, June 17.—Miss Mabel R. Gordon, a popular Beverly girl, and a graduate of Wellesley college, class of 1901, is believed to have committed suicide in Jamaica pond, sometime between 4 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following her sudden disappearance from the Adams Nervine hospital on Centre street, Jamaica Plain.

The only evidence of suicide, which is conclusive in the opinion of the police, was the finding of shoes, coat and hat which bore her name, on the shore of Jamaica pond, a short distance from the hospital. The authorities at the hospital and the young woman's father were communicated with and all interested in the case are convinced that the young woman drowned herself.

Up to a late hour last night officers searched the shore and patrolled the pond in boats in an effort to find the body, but without success. This morning a squad of officers from the West Roxbury station will be detailed to grapple for the body unless there are other developments in the meantime.

The young woman's mind is believed to have been affected by overstudy and to this trouble the supposed suicide is ascribed. Miss Gordon was 29 years old, and a daughter of George Gordon, a prominent resident of Beverly Cove, superintendent of the summer place of Dudley L. Pickman on Neptune street.

Miss Gordon was unusually studious and most of her spare time was devoted to this work. In fact, she applied herself so steadily that she became nervous, and her ill health was attributed to these efforts.

About a week ago her father suggested that she enter the Adams Nervine hospital for treatment, and she went there of her own accord. At that institution she appeared to be in better spirits and improved slightly.

Yesterday about 4 o'clock she was missed, and when she did not return within a short period, her father was notified. Mr. Gordon went to Captain Barnham of the police, and through his department descriptions of this young woman were sent to Boston and adjoining cities and towns. In the description it was stated that the young woman wore a gray suit, black sailor hat and tan shoes.

An attaché of the hospital identified the shoes and hat as the property of Miss Gordon, whose name was also found inside the hat. Dr. Edward B. Lane, who was in charge of the hospital last night, said that the young woman left the institution yesterday afternoon and that she had not been seen since. He would not discuss the theory of suicide.

Miss Gordon was a graduate of the Beverly high school in 1897, and entered Wellesley the next fall. She studied hard and graduated with honors. During the past few years her health has failed and last summer she toured Europe with her father in an effort at recovery.

POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE HADLEY TODAY

William Carr, aged 17 years, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Ira Harris, aged 13 years.

According to the testimony offered in court Carr and a number of other boys were playing baseball at Lincoln park the night before last and Harris was one of the spectators. The ball was knocked in his direction and picking it up he threw it to one of the players, whereupon Carr picked up a stone and threw it at Harris, the missile striking the latter on the head and inflicting a deep wound.

Although Carr pleaded guilty he claimed that Harris was as much to blame for the accident as he was. He said that he was throwing stones in the air and Harris ran into one.

The court decided that Carr was guilty of the offense but felt that it would be better to have him pay expenses rather than give him a police court record.

Only One Drunk

There was but one drunk in court and owing to the fact that he was a first offender he escaped with the usual fine of $2.

Juvenile Court

Michael Giannoulas, aged 16 years, who assaulted Arthur Vigneault at the corner of Dutton and Merrimack streets last Wednesday night was brought before Judge Hadley at the juvenile session of the police court this morning and was fined $10. Giannoulas was one of the boys who went on strike at the Merrimack mills and Vigneault remained at work. All efforts to get Vigneault to give up his work were fruitless and the night before last when he was on his way home from the mill he was assaulted by the defendant.

CAPTAIN CURTIS

PRESENTED A SWORD BY MEMBERS OF COMPANY

Captain Curtis of Company G, of the high school regiment was agreeably surprised Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of the school session when the members of his company gathered in one of the school rooms and presented him a sword.

The recipient has not missed a drill day in four years and the members of the company planned that if they failed to win the sword at the field day held last month that they would give him one.

Wednesday as Capt. Curtis was about to go home he was informed that he was wanted in one of the school rooms. There was nothing unusual about the request and he immediately went to the room designated only to find that the members of his company were assembled there. Before he had a chance to imagine what was to happen Lieut. Oliver S. Flint presented him the sword. Though taken wholly by surprise Capt. Curtis responded.

The Concord was resting easily this morning and will probably float at high water this afternoon and continue on her passage from Providence to New York.

THE BIG FIGHT PARSONS NAMED

May Be Held at Reno, In a Slander Suit in Nevada Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Unless an unforeseen shift occurs in the fight situation a definite announcement that Jeffries and Johnson will come together for their championship battle at Reno, Nev., is expected today from Promoter Richard, who last night made the following statement:

"It is safe to say that the fight will take place at Reno. I am not going to waste any more time or money in California. But Jeffries and Johnson will meet on the fourth of July if I have to take them on the desert to hold the fight, and even if it breaks me."

It is reported that arrangements are under way for the creation of a mammoth arena at Reno. According to Richard's statement last night he will leave for Reno Sunday morning and take personal charge of preparations there.

"As everyone knows," he says, "the laws of Nevada are explicit and in that state there is nothing to prevent a dog-fight a day taking place as long as a regular permit is secured for each contest."

"Aylesworth, a Reno man in whom I have the greatest confidence, has wired me that the Reno people will build us an arena free of charge and provide us with a license. The arena can be erected wherever necessary in ten days. It will hold about 20,000 spectators."

"I had word from both Jeffries and Johnson that they will fight anywhere I want them to."

The San Francisco Hotelmen's association met last night and adopted resolutions condemning the efforts to prevent the fight.

Jack Johnson seems to be worrying more over the attachment of his automobile by George Little, his deposed manager, than over the fight middle. But none of his troubles is affecting his spirit. After his workout yesterday he stood on the scales and found that he had gained two pounds in the last two days, tipping the beam at 215. The champion said he probably would do only light gymnasium work today.

and who, like her husband, who is considerably older than herself, is a devout church member, is said by the Rev. Mr. Crawford to have made a confidant of him with reference to her relations with another minister of the Methodist faith, the Rev. John D. Leek. According to Mr. Crawford, he felt in honor bound to relate what he had heard with reference to Mr. Leek to Bishop McDowell. Later the story became public and thereafter Mr. Crawford spoke with considerable freedom to newspaper reporters.

Mrs. Lavender alleges that he distorted the facts. Mr. Leek resigned from the Chicago conference.

The court was occupied yesterday in selecting a jury. Veniemen were asked if they knew Bishop McDowell, Dist. Supt. Holt or the Rev. W. E. Tilroe.

"Making Good"

Whether applied to man or merchandise, both must "make good" or make way.

Dewey, for instance, "made good" at Manila, and the country paid him homage.

With merchandise, the "KAYSER" Patent Finger Tipped Silk Gloves, have "made good" for over a quarter of a century. To-day they are the standard in the glove world, and the enormous demand for gloves bearing the name "KAYSER" attests the fact that the women of the world have set their stamp of approval upon them. Verily, they have "made good."

"KAYSER'S" gloves must "make good" or make way for a new pair free, the guarantee ticket insures this.

If any pair falls short of the "KAYSER" standard, or your expectations we want the dealer to replace that pair at our expense. The guarantee ticket does this.

Any "KAYSER" glove that does not "make good" must make way.

"KAYSER" Gloves "cost no more" than the ordinary kind.

This preparation has been carefully compounded by the National Formula Committee of the great American Druggists Syndicate, and is particularly effective for those who are victims of the more common ailments of women.

All women thus affected should not hesitate to consult their family physician fully, but when this is impossible this remedy is the next best course, and if taken according to instruction will bring entire relief in a large percentage of cases. It is safe and harmless and can be obtained at any A. D. S. drug store.

DESPERATE FIGHT

Took Place in Laboratory of Cornell Medical School

NEW YORK, June 17.—One of the laboratories of the Cornell medical school here was the scene this morning of a desperate battle between a burglar and one of the watchmen employed by the school. The watchman, James Mahoney, was seriously injured in the encounter.

According to Watchman Mahoney's story the intruder was filling his pockets with costly microscope lenses when Mahoney detected him. The stranger who was unarmed, seized a $500 brass microscope and hurried it at the watchman. Mahoney dodged and jumped on the intruder. The latter was of powerful build and in spite of a rain of blows from Mahoney's club he soon had the watchman on the floor, pummeling him and kicking him. Mahoney's cries were heard by a passing policeman who vaulted from the street to a window ledge and jumped into the dark laboratory, smashing the plate glass window pane as he dived into the room. He gripped the burglar by the coat collar and held a revolver at the man's ear while Mahoney snapped a pair of handcuffs over his wrists. When he was searched at the police station twelve lenses, worth about $500, were found in the prisoner's possession. In an inside pocket was a love letter written to him from the Tombs prison by a young woman recently arrested on charges of larceny.

HIPPODROME, WASHINGTON PARK

MISS ROSE BARNETT.

Shows of all kinds have come and gone in our city, but we must take off our hats to Mr. Carl J. Perin, the manager of the Hippodrome at Washington park for giving to our city the best show that has ever been seen here, and the word heard on all sides is how can he do it for 10 cents. Well the answer is, he is doing it and what is more each week will be as good or better and of all the promises made by Mr. Perin none has been broken; everything he has promised has been fulfilled, so go to the park and if you are skeptical be convinced.

The bill this week is one continuous awe inspiring, mirth provoking entertainment that will please the young people of all ages, giving you every part of act that can possibly be put on one program.

Klith's animals, consisting of trained cats, dogs, rabbits and doves and a pretty combination of small animals showing various feats that one would think it impossible to teach dumb small animals. Is one of the numbers on next week's program. Another good feature is Alright & Little in an unique Japanese act, Edwin George, the funniest juggler ever seen on any stage and also Hubers Bears who have the reputation of being not only the cleverest trained bears shown on any stage but also the most ferocious. These bears last year attacked their trainer, Mme. Huber, and killed her small animals. Is one of the numbers on next week's program. ## COL. ROOSEVELT'S RETURN

Tomorrow Col. Roosevelt is to tread once more American soil after a year's absence that has been quite as eventful as any in his career. His experience in the Spanish American war was not half so thrilling as his great hunting expedition in the wilds of Africa; and his princely receptions at all the principal royal courts in Europe was an experience never to be forgotten.

What will he do after his return? That is the question of the hour. We surmise he will look up the Roosevelt policies with a view to having the compass of the ship of state regulated so that the needle will point directly to the polar star of the Roosevelt chart. Then will the ex-president give his loyal support to President Taft and declare that the interests of the country demand for him the most loyal support.

HOW LOS ANGELES WAS REDEEMED FROM CORRUPTION

Any city that contemplates the adoption of a new charter, should study well the results of charter reform as illustrated in a practical manner in the city of Los Angeles during the past eight years.

For a long time the city was in absolute control of gamblers and corrupt city officials who sold outwitted the interests of the city in franchises and natural resources for their own private gain. These forces as might be expected fought the movement for charter reform of the right kind. A charter commission was appointed and of course the corrupt interests were ably represented and they managed to submit to the people a charter without the recall and without the initiative and referendum upon which the reformers insisted. But it was to their great astonishment defeated.

The people took the matter into their own hands and after much contention, another draft of charter was submitted, this embodying the initiative and referendum as required by the reformers. The conservatives managed to arrange that all sections would be voted upon separately with a view to concentrating their opposition to the chief features to which they were opposed, but to their surprise these were carried by a vote of 6 to 1.

It was in 1902 that the charter was ratified by the people, and in 1905 the initiative was invoked in reference to four propositions for the location of slaughter houses within the city limits. The people with wonderful sagacity decided by a large majority in favor of the most desirable of all the propositions.

The initiative was again invoked successfully to defeat an ordinance passed by the city council, creating a public utilities commission that was made up mainly of representatives of the vested interests; it was also applied in overthrowing the power of the corrupt political machine and the adoption of a direct primary election law that gave the people complete control over political nominations.

By the initiative, the street car company was compelled to equip its cars with fenders, after the city council had been appealed to in vain for action in that direction.

In 1908 the initiative was applied to defeat the grant by the city council for a sum of $500, a city franchise worth several hundred thousand dollars. The matter was subsequently referred to the people and defeated by an overwhelming majority.

But this did not prevent the city council from attempting a still greater fraud upon the city. This time at the behest of street railway corporations it granted a franchise that secured to the existing corporations for all time the only ingress and egress to the city on one side. It was estimated to be worth over a million dollars. This time "Recall" petitions were gotten out for the removal of the men who had voted this steal quietly and without notice to the public, probably for a price. The city council knew what the result would be and promptly rescinded their action.

In 1909 a deal was framed in the city council to award the city printing to a certain publication for $25,000 more than the lowest bid upon the contract. The deal was in direct violation of the city charter and was also regarded as a bribe in lieu of political support from the publication favored. Here the "Recall" was invoked and the only councilman who stood for re-election was defeated two to one. The award being illegal was defeated without reference to the people.

But the last demonstration of popular rule under this new charter was the most striking and we might say spectacular, for it was directed against Mayor Harper on the ground that he and certain members of the city council had been detected in league with secret dens of vice and immorality.

The mayor and his friends vigorously denied the charges and instituted libel suits to the amount of $600,000 against the papers that published them.

The petitioners selected as their candidate Hon. George Alexander, a man of irreproachable character. Before the special election was held, however, the Evening Express published a complete confession from the chief promoter of dens of vice in the city and proved that a close corporation headed by the mayor was receiving $1,500 per month in lieu of protection.

This was too much for Mayor Harper and he withdrew from the contest and resigned his office, thus driven into retirement in ignominy and disgrace.

It is alleged that all the various proceedings by which the city was saved from plunder and villainy of the worst kind, netting millions of dollars and involving the burning disgrace of the city, cost only $25,000. Hence it appears that at least one city in this broad land has a workable charter that has proved effective in defeating schemes of plunder and infamy and in establishing a government of civic decency.

It behooves the various cities of New England that are in trouble with their public officials, to study the desirability of a charter that gives the people a prompt remedy for official rascality, incapacity or deliberate plunder through the machinery of legislation and under pretense of public duty.

SEEN AND HEARD

A man's prospects are as good as his principles.

Character is more than disposition; it's position.

Meet your friend half-way and he'll lead you to his own rooftop.

It takes but a match to make a blaze, but tons of water to put it out.

Fresh breezes are always welcomed with more cordiality than fresh youths.

Some folks would find fault with the look if they received the golden key to heaven.

She knows nothing of broiling.
He is not built for telling.
Yet still they think they'll risk it.
Though he can't pay the rent—
She cannot make a biscuit.
He cannot make a cent.

She rises late of mornings.
He stays out late at nights.
She plays quite well at euchre.
He has no heap of lures.
And yet in spite of warning
Their truth they want to plight.
She rises late of mornings.
He stays out late at nights.

She cannot fry potatoes.
He cannot drive a nail.
She never had a merry.
He never had a hurry.
She cannot slice tomatoes.
At beating rags he'd fall;
She cannot fry potatoes.
He cannot drive a nail.

She is no good at dusting.
He cannot mend a chair.
Nor can he build a fire.
Yet she is his desire.
And with affection trusting
She knows they'll have no care—
She is no good at dusting.
He cannot mend a chair.

They'll blame it all on Cupid

And each will scold the other, verely battered in a railroad wreck, in which he suffered the loss of a foot. Soon after marrying a beautiful woman the ill-used minister met an old friend on the street, who banteringly asked: "How in the world did such a pretty girl come to marry you?" "Oh, ladies look for remnants!" was the reply, with the promptness of one who knew all about the lure of the bargain counter for the bargain hunter.

The story is an old one, but it is said to have been actually applied recently in the household of a well known Lowell man. Miss Daisy, the charming and only daughter, found a love letter that her father had written to her mother in the halcyon days of their courtship. Daisy read the letter to her mother, substituting her own name and that of her sweetheart.

Daisy's mother raved in anger and stamped her foot in disgust and forbade her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write "such nonsensical stuff to a girl."

Daisy then gave the letter to her mother to read.

The house became so suddenly quiet that she could hear the flies walking across the ceiling.

PEOPLE OF NOTE
Mrs. Eva E. Bean, who has just been elected superintendent of schools at Old Orchard, Me., is the second woman admitted to the practice of law in her state.

Rev. Alexander McKenzie, D. D., for so long the pastor of the Shepard Memorial church in Cambridge, of which he was the first Sunday in July he will be pastor emeritus, is to go abroad for the summer, or longer. He will sail early in July and will spend some time in England before traveling on the Continent. Rome is to be included in his itinerary.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has been re-elected president of the New England Women's club. Mrs. Judith W. Smith was elected honorary vice president in recognition of her long and faithful services. Besides these two ladies there were four other members present who attended the first meeting of the club forty years old.

Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, has signified his intention to be financially responsible for an agricultural and industrial school, to be located at Lyndonville, Vt., where it will form a part of the Lyndonville Institute. This will give the institute in question the distinction of being the first of its class to add an agricultural department.

The wife of E. Buchmann left his native town twelve years ago, when he was twenty-one years old, and made a fortune in San Mateo. He recently returned to Strasburg to visit relatives and friends, and some informer notified the authorities that he was subject to military service. His arrest followed.

Dr. Chas. A. Eastman ("Ohiyesa"), the Sioux author of "Wigwam Evenings," "Indian Boyhood," etc., will leave about the middle of June on a long journey through some of the wildest parts of the United States and Canada. He will explore the lake region of northern Minnesota and the Canadian wilderness as far as the Saskatchewan river, studying the history and customs of the most primitive Indians remaining, as well as making a collection illustrating their native arts and ceremonies. Mrs. Elaine Goodale Eastman, who collaborated with her husband on "Wigwam Evenings" and whose "Little Brother of Dreams" published this spring, is in large part reminiscent of her own childhood, expects to spend the summer in literary work at their home in Amherst, Mass.

Harvard's oldest three living graduates, according to the new university directory, are the Rev. James I. T. Coe, of Cambridge, Mass.; the Rev. Edward A. Benoit of Keene, N. H.; and Dr. James L. Wellington of South Scituate, Mass., all members of the class of '22. The oldest of the three, Mr. Coe, who is 92, thinks that he will live to be 100. "I attribute the robust good health which I have enjoyed all my life," he says, "to habits of temperance, abstemiousness, and habits of living and cleanliness of mind and body which I learned when I was in Harvard college. Harvard has undergone a complete change since my time, 72 years ago. I believe it would be better for the physical welfare of the undergraduates at least if the manners and customs were more like those of the old days. The students nowadays have too many activities, and these in turn cause too much of a strain. It is the commonplace things of life, after all, which count."

JUDGE DECOURCY

IS NOT A CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE

Judge Charles A. Decourcy of the superior court, whose name has been mentioned in various papers in the state as a probable, available or possible candidate for governor or for congress, yesterday formally declared for the first time that he is not and will not be a candidate for either office. He is perfectly contented with his present position on the bench.

In talking to a reporter in regard to the newspaper references he said:

"I have seen two or three such references and have remained silent, as these rumors were published without my consent or knowledge."

"Had my well-intending newspaper friends consulted me I should have told them that I am too contented with my present position to change it, and that when I came upon the bench all political ambition was left behind."

"For the last eight years all my time and thought have been devoted to judicial work and kindred duties. Whatever ability and experience I have is in that line, and the court house is more attractive to me than state house or capitol."

"But I suppose you would allow your name to be used?" Judge Decourcy was asked.

"No, I shall not be a candidate, either for governor or for congress."

They went out to the camp early in the afternoon and a list of attractions were to be carried out on the lawn, but as the weather was not propitious this part of the program had to be omitted. The gentlemen members of the club went out about 6 o'clock and the ladies had a beautiful lunch prepared for them in the spacious club house. After all had done justice to the good things prepared for them, a game of progressive whist was in order. The first gentleman's prize went to Mr. F. X. A. Hurlbut, and the

THREE PORTERS

Charged With the Larceny of Tickets

BOSTON, June 17.—Inspectors Shields and Pelton of police headquarters made three more arrests yesterday afternoon in connection with the alleged extensive thefts of tickets from the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad. The three men taken yesterday are negro porters employed on sleeping trains running between this city and New York.

At police headquarters they were booked as Bernard S. Page, alias P. Sylvester Page, 29 years old, of 91 Rutland square; David Banks, alias George Jackson, 26 years old, of 1 Washburn terrace, North Cambridge; Eugene Brown, alias James Brooks, 28 years old, of 35 Claremont pk.

Warrants were obtained in the municipal court yesterday for the arrest of the porters by G. E. Stanford, representing the accounting department of the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad. Detectives employed by the railroad have been watching the porters. The stolen tickets, it is charged, were disposed of in shops at the South End.

Three weeks ago two other men were arrested for the alleged theft of tickets. The complaint charges that Page stole tickets valued at $165.

Bank's tickets amounting to $164.34 and Brown's to $144.70.

The council also voted in favor of San Francisco as a site for the world's fair to be held in 1915 in commemoration of the completion of the Panama canal. The secretary was instructed to send a telegram to Congressman Butler Ames, asking him to support the claims of the Pacific coast metropolis.

Richard Aldrich was graduated from Yale with the class of '06. His illness brought his father to New York.

DOUBLE AFFLICTION

MOTHER AND HUSBAND OF WOMAN ARE DEAD

AMHERST, June 17.—Mrs. Ellen Heaton, aged 70, mother of Mrs. Mary Heaton Vorse, a well known writer, died Wednesday evening of heart failure in her home on Amity street.

She came to Amherst 25 years ago from Stockbridge. She was a member of Grace church and for many years took an active interest in its benevolent work. She was also until recently an active member of the Amherst Woman's club.

She leaves a husband, Hiram Heaton, two sons, Charles Marvin and Sidney Marvin of San Francisco, and three daughters, Mrs. Ellen Gibson of Cowansville, Conn., Mrs. Elizabeth Kaufmann of Berlin, Germany, and Mrs. Mary Heaton Vorse, just returning home from Italy. The funeral was held yesterday morning at 10 at the home.

Mr. Heaton received word yesterday of the death of Albert White Vorse, aged 42, the husband of his daughter, Mary Heaton Vorse. Mr. Vorse died Wednesday in St. Vincent's hospital, New York, of a ruptured blood vessel. Mr. and Mrs. Vorse and children spent the winter in Tangiers, and Mr. Vorse returned to New York on business, leaving her to follow. Mr. Vorse was a graduate of Harvard, '89, and had since been a journalist and magazine writer and had collaborated with Mrs. Vorse in writing short stories. In 1892 Mr. Vorse was the historian of the second Peary relief expedition, of which he was a member.

HAVERHILL COUNCIL

REFUSES TO GRANT LICENSES TO DRUGGISTS

HAVERHILL, June 17.—Six applications for sixth class licenses to sell liquor in drug stores were given "leave to withdraw" by the municipal council at a meeting last evening, and three more will share the same fate when they come up for action next week.

The druggists had hoped the authorities would grant them the plums in view of the fact that in all other ways the city has been tied up as tight as a drum, but the council refused to listen to their appeals.

In order that city hall might be decorated for the mammoth celebration of Fourth of July, a special appropriation of $100 has been made by the council, this making a total of $200 that the city will expend on the holiday.

CAUGHT AS CONGRESS WANED

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

WHEN the history of the doings of the second session of the Sixty-first congress is inscribed in letters of gold—or brass—on the annals of the nation one item on the record will stand out as dazzling as the whiteness of the White House—IT BUMPED UNCLE JOE CANON.

The history of that feat is still too fresh in the public memory to need repetition here, so it will not be repeated, although in casting about for things to say about the session one can find few affairs so interesting. Wherever one turns in the history, at any rate in the greater part of its length, he finds a plethora of words and a paucity of accomplishment. Always excepting what happened to Uncle Joe. And that was some months ago.

One is reminded of a story told on congress—not new, perhaps, but not so old that it won't bear retelling. The gallery overlooking the hall of representatives once held two visitors, a father and his young son, at the opening of a day's proceedings. When the chaplain had concluded his invocation little Rollo asked, "Father, why do they have a man to pray for congress?" The paternal reply was, "He doesn't pray for congress, son; he takes a look at congress and prays for the country."

Some Able Addresses.

It seems to be the general opinion, however, that the work of the session has not been such as to require the addressing of any special petitions to Providence for the country's welfare. The major part of the time since the first Monday of last December has been devoted to discussion of the measures advocated by President Taft in his message and speeches—the amendment of the interstate commerce law to give greater powers to the commission, the postal savings bill, the bill looking to the conservation of the country's resources, the statehood bill and other "administration" measures. Outside of these the session has not been marked by the introduction of any great, epoch making laws. There have been, however, some able addresses, notably in the senate, in advocacy of or in opposition to the bills favored by Mr. Taft. Some of them, such as Senator Cummins' three day speech opposing the administration's railroad bill, have attracted the attention of a listening world to the extent which they deserved. Others, probably equally as able forensic efforts, have gone "the way to dusty death" in the pages of the Congressional Record, that sepulcher of the hopes and fears, the aspirations and ambitions, of congressional orators. Probably as many more have broken into the Record under the "leave to print" by which the senate and house save themselves from listening to speeches which the author does not want to deliver and the alleged audience does not want to hear.

Speaker Cannon's Views.

Some of the really great speeches of the session have not made the impression on the country which they deserved. If we may believe Speaker Cannon, the fault lies mainly with the newspapers. In a recent letter, speaking of the relative space given in the papers to subjects of real importance and to such matters as the sending to the speaker of a freak postal card "pretending to be the plea of several young ladies who desired the speaker to aid them in securing husbands," Speaker Cannon said:

"A few weeks ago there were several incidents, if not important developments, in congress on one day. One southern senator who had for a few weeks occupied a seat in the senate by appointment of the governor delivered a farewell address which was unique both in the fact itself and in the character of his utterances.

"Another southern senator presented a constitutional argument on the postal savings bank bill which held the attention of the senators and members, who almost unanimously agreed that it was one of the greatest arguments made in the senate in recent years.

"A member of the president's cabinet appeared before the joint committee charged with the investigation of the interior department and gave positive testimony of importance, taking direct issue with one of the principal accusers of Secretary Ballinger.

"The senate committee appointed to investigate the cost of living began its hearings that day and heard important testimony. The house committee on agriculture heard a number of university presidents on the bill to enlarge the scope of the Morrill act for federal aid to agricultural and mechanical education.

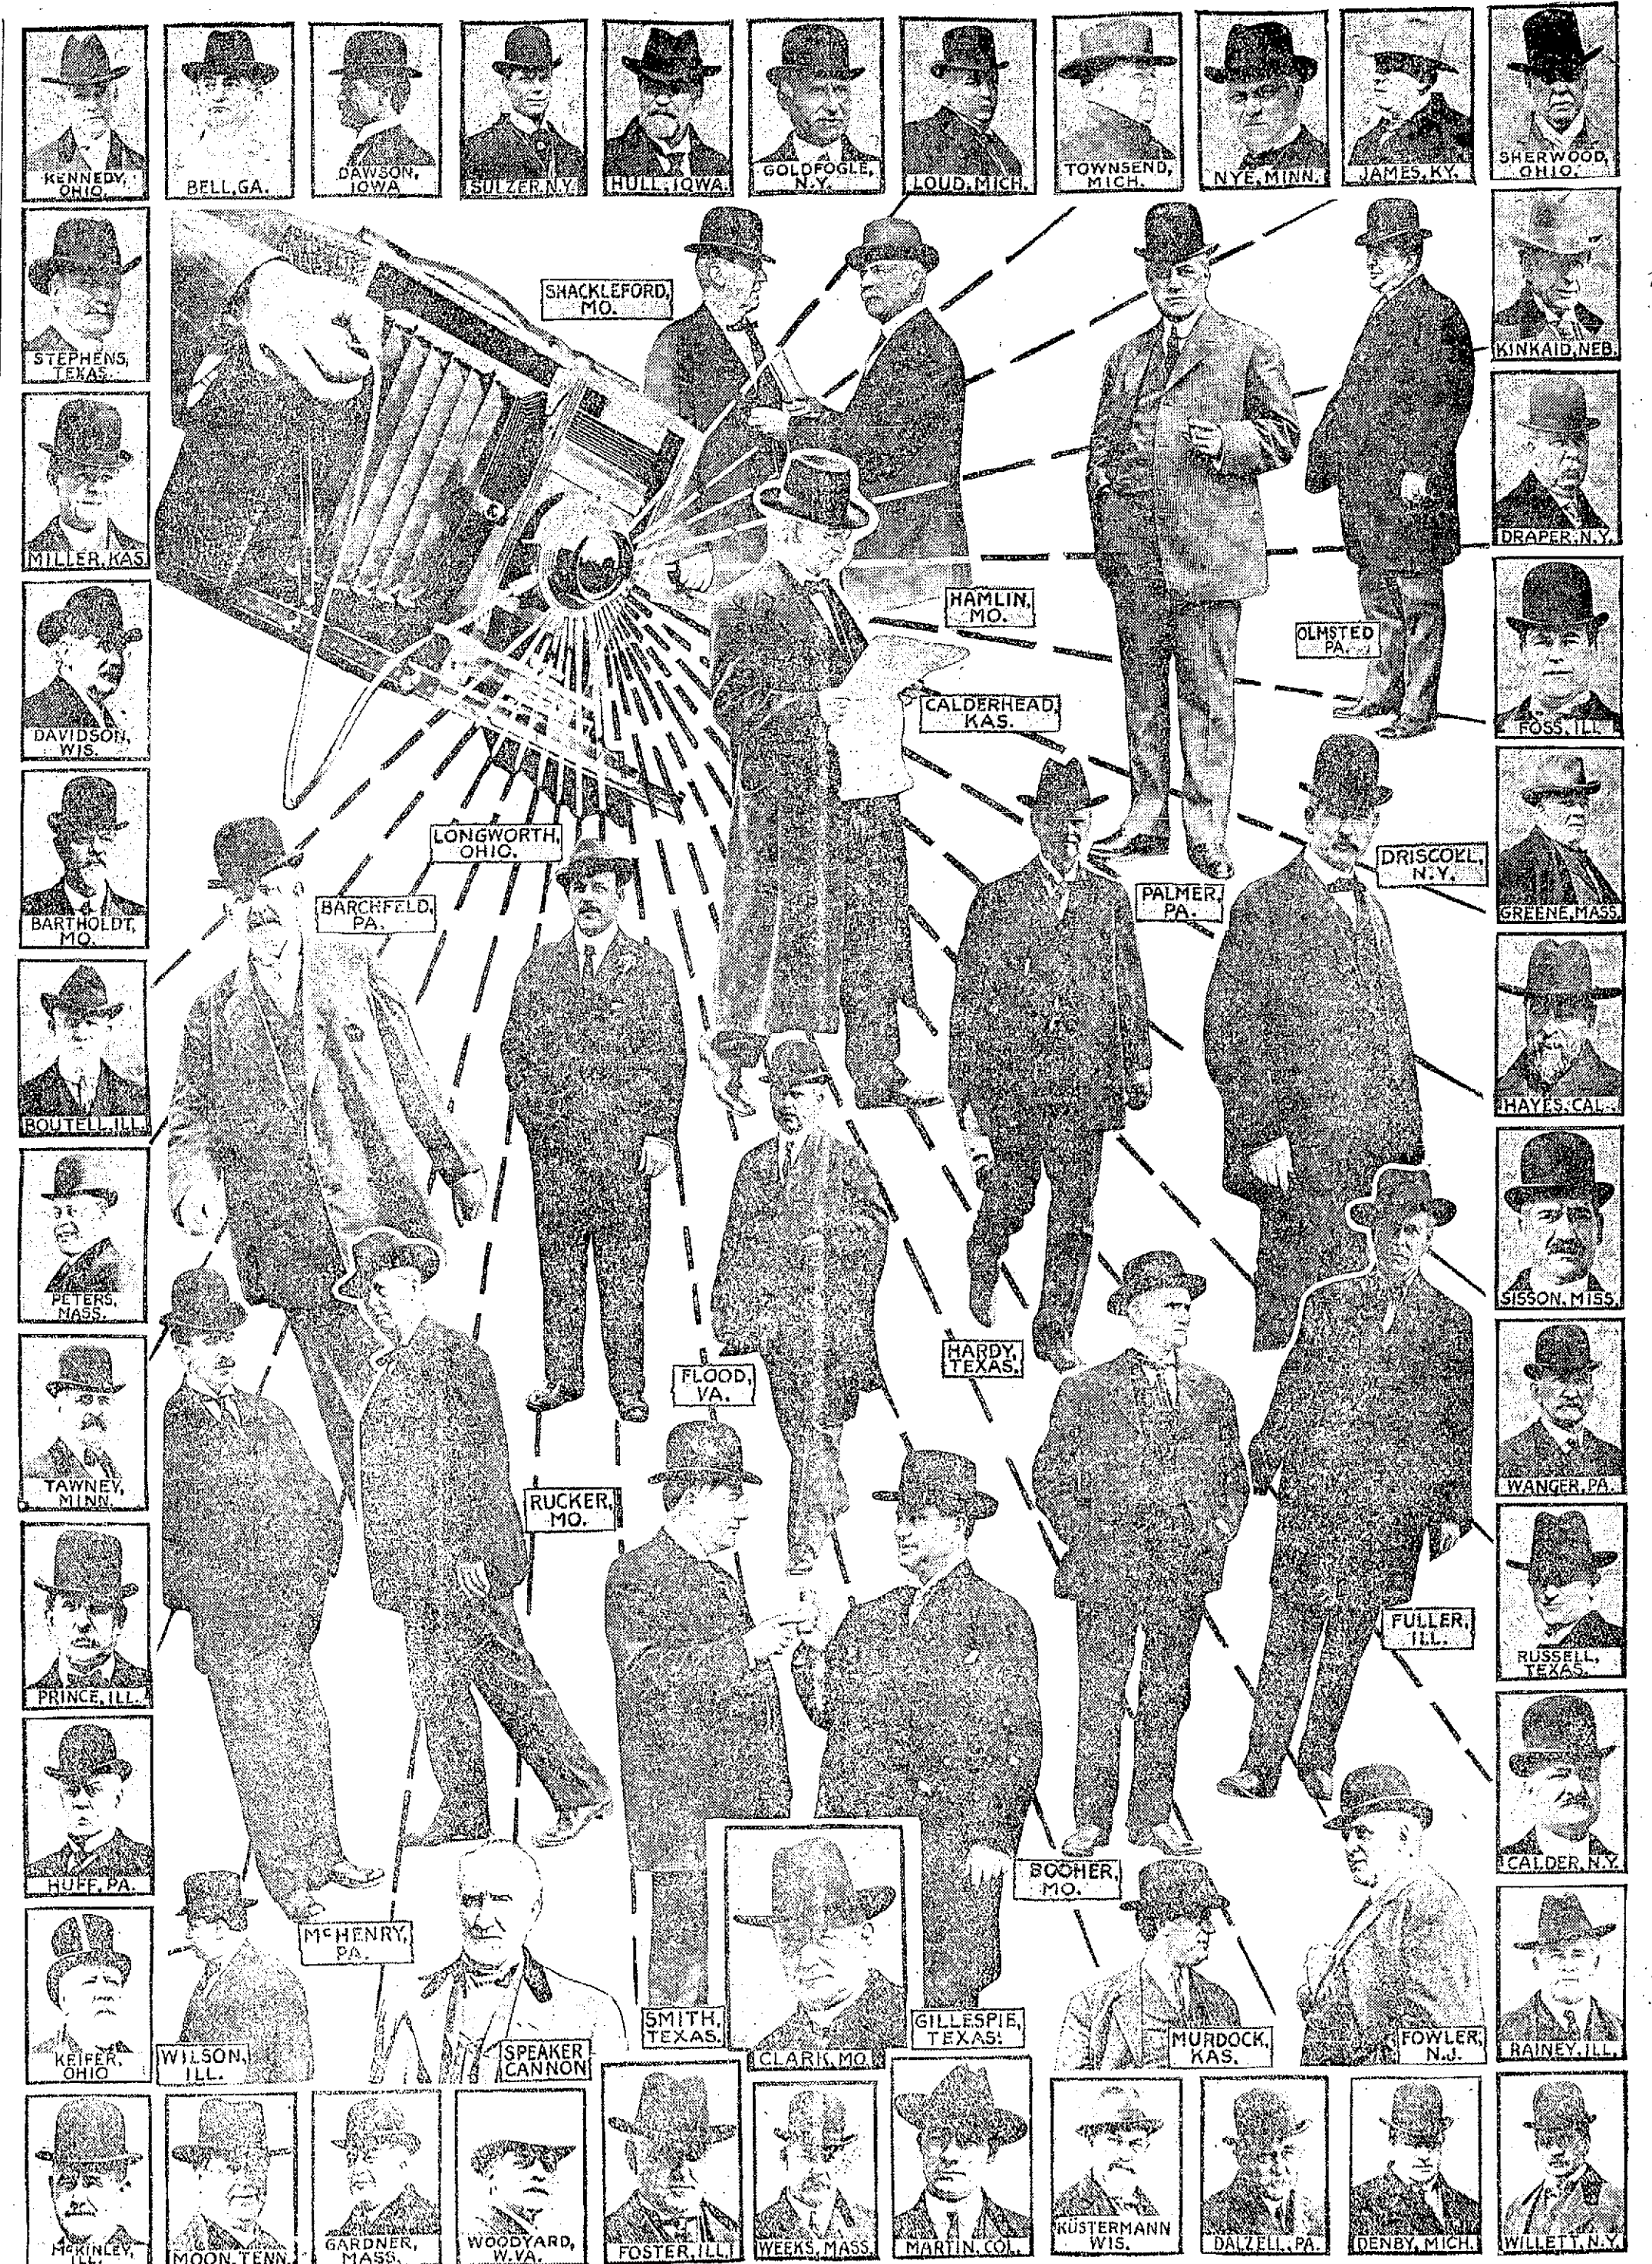

"A subcommittee of the committee on the District of Columbia in the house gave a hearing to Dr. Wiley on the high cost of living.

"The army appropriation bill, carrying more than $100,000,000, was under consideration in the house. The same day there was found in the speaker's mail an anonymous postal card pretending to be the plea of several young ladies who desired the speaker to aid them in securing husbands.

"Here were six subjects of public importance and one freak postal card, and the latter secured second place in the newspapers as measured by space, headlines and position on the first page the next morning. The farewell address of Senator Gordon had first place, and 'Uncle Joe's matrimonial bureau' had second place, while the constitutional argument against postal savings banks, the high cost of living, the extension of federal aid to agriculture, education, the defense of a great executive department against slander and the appropriation of $100,000,000 for the army were each dismissed with a paragraph."

Proceedings Followed Closely.

In spite of Mr. Cannon's pessimistic judgment concerning the relatively small amount of attention given in the newspapers to really big things there is no doubt that the doings there the big doings in Washington are followed carefully and intelligently throughout the country.

Photos by American Press Association.

Whenever the president has "congress on his hands," as a predecessor of Mr. Taft said, the country has congress on its mind. This is no more true in times of great popular interest, as when a tariff bill is under consideration, than when important but drier subjects are up for discussion. Nowhere else on earth do the people follow with such close attention the doings of their legislative bodies as in the United States. Drop in almost any evening at a crossroads country store and you are just as likely as not to find that the men gathered there are discussing the doings of their representatives in Washington and displaying a remarkably keen and intelligent interest therein. It is this characteristic of American life that gives vitality to all our governmental institutions—the closeness with which the proceedings in Washington and in the various state capitals are followed by the "folks at home." Many a statesman and politician is kept on the straight and narrow path by the wholesome fear of what Bill Jones and his comrades will say about him in the village forum if he yields to temptation. This applies mainly to the smaller communities, of course, which form the majority of the congressional constituencies. Representatives of the bigger towns and cities think more of what the newspapers will say.

The second session of the Sixty-first congress has seemed long to the public, perhaps, owing to the amount of time it has given to various important measures and the late date at which it got down to real constructive work. The record for time consumed in one congressional session is held by the second session of the Fortieth congress, which did not adjourn until 245 days, almost an entire year, had elapsed from the date of its assembling, Dec. 2, 1867.

The accompanying picture shows some of the most prominent and active members of the house as they walked about the streets of Washington. It gives one an idea of the nation's lawmakers not as they look when facing Mr. Cannon's marble rostrum and asking for the attention of "Mr. Speaker," but as they appear when snipped unawares by the newspaper camera. Every section is represented.

SKULL FRACTURED

Lawrence Man Probably Fatally Injured

LAWRENCE, June 17.—Anthony Pitkowski, of 29 Canal street, was thrown from a motorcycle at Essex and Lawrence streets yesterday afternoon in a collision with the wagon of Chas. D. Abbott of Andover. The latter was driving across Essex street and was obliged to change his course by the approach of a street car. Pitkowski was riding down Essex street on his bicycle and apparently lost control of the machine and crashed into the wagon.

Examination of Pitkowski at the hospital revealed a badly fractured skull, the break having occurred through the orbit of the eye, the ball of which was broken. There is little chance of his recovery. He was about 22 years of age. It is said that he bought the motorcycle only a few days ago.

NEVADA WILLING

TO HAVE FIGHT ON REQUEST OF $1000

RENO, Nev., June 17.—Bill McCarty, representing Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason, promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, arrived last night to ascertain definitely whether there would be any possibility of opposition to holding the contest here. County and state officials assured them that the payment of a license fee of $1000 was the only requisite. Mr. Rickard said that Ed Henry, of Reno, O'Casey in charge of the Langford-Kaufman fight, were willing to go on a double program on July 4 in Reno if the "Prisco" obstacle could not be overcome.

BURNING VESSEL

NEW YORK, June 17.—As the Mauretania, which is bound for Liverpool, was approaching the harbor at 9:10 last night, her officers sighted a burning vessel at 20 miles east of the Fire Island light. The vessel was apparently a lumber-laden schooner and was ablaze fore and aft. The Mauretania slowed down on approaching the burning craft but it soon became evident that there was no one on board.

After making sure that no boats from the burning craft were hovering in the vicinity, the Mauretania proceeded.

FOUR DROWNED

Chinese Sailors Tried to Escape

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—As the British steamship Highland Monarch was proceeding down the Schuylkill river today, bound for Auckland, New Zealand, seven members of the Chinese crew leaped overboard in an endeavor to escape. Four were drowned and the remaining three were captured.

The drowning was the culmination of a mutiny that broke out last night among twenty Chinamen because they had not been granted shore leave while the vessel was loading. The mutiny was suppressed at the time after a Chinaman had endeavored to stab the first mate. This morning the Highland Monarch got under way with the Chinese in the stockhold, firing the boilers. Suddenly as the steamship was passing through the draw at Penrose Ferry bridge a dozen Chinamen appeared above deck and seven of them leaped overboard. Captain Wood was on the bridge control the whistle, stopped the ship and ordered a crew to man a boat. In the struggle for liberty the men had to fight the strong tide and four of them sank before reaching shallow water. The other three just managed to reach shore and were taken to a police station.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST NEWTON, June 17.—It was wet going when the eight survivors in the Massachusetts amateur golf championship started today on the third round at the Brae Burn Country club. Something heavier than a Scotch mist was falling, making the fair green very soft and the putting greens uncertain. Yet a score or more enthusiastic followers of the game crowded about the first tee when the big match of the day between the title holder, Percival Gilbert, of the home club, and former Champion John G. Sanderson, of the adjoining Woodland Golf club drove off down the long slope to the first hole. The second pair away was T. R. Fulller of Wollaston and J. N. Manning of Brae Burn, followed by E. C. Davidson of Oakley and H. W. Stucklen of Brae Burn, the latter having the New Hampshire championship in his bag. The last pair was Al Squire of the Alpine club, Fitzburgh, and G. R. Angus of Brae Burn.

150 YEARS OLD

AMHERST, N. H., June 17.—Amherst, once the leading town in the state, the seat of the state legislature and the state courts, the birthplace of Horace Greeley, and the scene of Daniel Webster's first plea in court, today with notable exercises celebrated its 150th anniversary.

The town was filled with hundreds of old residents and citizens of surrounding towns while the presence of Governor Henry E. Quincy and his staff in uniform lent impressiveness to the scene. The day's program opened with a band concert on the spacious park in the center of the town, where the exercises of the day were held. Dr. George H. Wilkins of Newtonville, Mass., was president of the day and the historical address was delivered by Col. R. H. Milford.

Sports filled out the day with other exercises incident to the dedication of a marker placed on the site of the first meeting house.
